Leed Reference Guide 24:

LEED Lab Patricia Andrasik, 2021-11-22 Facility performance evaluations inform the long term life of a building and do not end with design or construction To this aim Patricia Andrasik created LEED Lab in collaboration with the US Green Building Council an increasingly popular international interdisciplinary collegiate laboratory course which utilizes campus buildings as demonstration sites to facilitate the green assessment of existing buildings LEED Lab A Model for Sustainable Design Education uses the LEED O M building rating system to measure and achieve performance driven campus facilities in which the readers work and operate The book explains in simple terms the theory tasks tools and techniques necessary for credit implementation and achievement and includes case studies and exercises for practical application in each chapter Readers will learn the conceptual scientific framework used to understand existing operational performance and how to quantify sustainable synergies create green campus policies with administrators and understand systems such as energy and water in a research based application The entire manual is accompanied by a vast online Teaching Toolkit to provide helpful educational resources such as syllabi lectures examinations assignments Individual Student Progress Presentation ISSP templates web resources and much more An excellent guide for undergraduate or graduate students enrolled in LEED Lab or a similar campus building assessment course as well as construction or architectural professionals and facility managers this manual navigates the complexities of using a green building diagnostic tool such as LEED O M towards greater environmental literacy Green Building Certification Systems Thilo Ebert, Natalie Eßig, Gerd Hauser, 2012-12-10 No detailed description available for Green Building Certification Systems New Construction Reference Guide Version 2.2 U.S. Green Building Council, 2007 Building a Sustainable Home Melissa Rappaport Schiffman, 2018-08-07 The green building movement has produced hundreds of how to books and websites that are filled with tips about green building and what homeowners should do to go green While helpful and informative when it comes to making actual purchasing and installation decisions these books do not make it any easier for a homeowner to prioritize against a budget Here Schiffman shares her knowledge and experience for others to use in their journey toward a greener way of living Whether the reader is building a new home or doing a minor remodel a homeowner needs a framework by which to guide their decisions These decisions are based on values and the author posits that there are really only three reasons to go green For Our Health By building more sustainably we reduce our exposure to harmful chemicals and toxins For Our Wealth By building a more durable home and being more efficient with resources like water and electricity we reduce our monthly utility bills and ongoing maintenance expenses For Our Soul Collectively doing the right thing for our planet does make a difference and that is soul nourishing Learn the logistics of choosing windows insulation appliances and lighting Find out about FSC certified wood and about using reclaimed materials Here is everything you need to make your home sustainable LEED Reference Guide for Building Design and Construction, V4 U.S. Green Building Council, 2013-11-01 Building for Life Stephen R.

Kellert,2012-09-26 Sustainable design has made great strides in recent years unfortunately it still falls short of fully integrating nature into our built environment Through a groundbreaking new paradigm of restorative environmental design award winning author Stephen R Kellert proposes a new architectural model of sustainability In Building For Life Kellert examines the fundamental interconnectedness of people and nature and how the loss of this connection results in a diminished quality of life This thoughtful new work illustrates how architects and designers can use simple methods to address our innate needs for contact with nature Through the use of natural lighting ventilation and materials as well as more unexpected methodologies the use of metaphor perspective enticement and symbol architects can greatly enhance our daily lives These design techniques foster intellectual development relaxation and physical and emotional well being In the works of architects like Frank Lloyd Wright Eero Saarinen Cesar Pelli Norman Foster and Michael Hopkins Kellert sees the success of these strategies and presents models for moving forward Ultimately Kellert views our fractured relationship with nature as a design problem rather than an unavoidable aspect of modern life and he proposes many practical and creative solutions for cultivating a more rewarding experience of nature in our built environment

Outdoor Environments for People Patsy Eubanks Owens,Jayoung Koo,Yiwei Huang,2023-09-06 Outdoor Environments for People addresses the everyday human behavior in outdoor built environments and explains how designers can learn about and incorporate their knowledge into places they help to create Bridging research and practice and drawing from disciplines such as environmental psychology cultural geography and sociology the book provides an overview of theories such as personal space territoriality privacy and place attachment that are explored in the context of outdoor environments and in particular the landscape architecture profession Authors share the impact that place design can have on individuals and communities with regard to health safety and belonging Beautifully designed and highly illustrated in full color this book presents analysis community engagement and design processes for understanding and incorporating the social and psychological influences of an environment and discusses examples of outdoor place design that skillfully respond to human factors As a textbook for landscape architecture students and a reference for practitioners it includes chapters addressing different realms of people place relationships examples of theoretical applications case studies and exercises that can be incorporated into any number of design courses Contemporary design examples organized by place type and illustrating key human factor principles provide valuable guidance and suggestions Outdoor Environments for People is a must have resource for students instructors and professionals within landscape architecture and the surrounding disciplines
