Phillip L. Hammack

Kzn Economics Paper 2014 Trial:

The Oxford Handbook of Social Psychology and Social Justice Phillip L. Hammack, 2018 The Oxford Handbook of Social Psychology and Social Justice spans cultures and disciplines to highlight critical paradigms and practices for the study of social injustice in diverse contexts This book addresses injustice along such lines as race ethnicity gender sexual identity and social class It also addresses pressing issues of globalization conflict intervention and social policy Youth Employment Programmes in Africa Ramos E. Mabugu, Lucas Ronconi, 2025-10-03 This book investigates youth employment programmes across nine African countries providing important insights into the world's youngest continent by population in which 60% of people are aged under 25 By 2050 the labour force in sub-Saharan Africa is expected to be almost double the size of the labour force in high income countries representing a massive shift in the world's working population and providing a significant challenge for job creation In this book contributors bring together insights from more than 500 in depth interviews and 1 500 focus group participants to consider whether youth employment programmes are effectively reaching vulnerable groups This book tackles the problem of political clientelism in the allocation of benefits and considers the level of coordination that is taking place across programmes and political institutions Combining rich empirical findings with data about labour market outcomes and institutions this book will be an important read for researchers wishing to understand the political economy of youth employment policy in Africa The Colour of Our Future Xolela Mangcu, 2015-07-01 South Africa is ready for a new vocabulary than can form the basis for a national consciousness which recognises racialised identities while affirming that as human beings we are much more than our racial sexual class religious or national identities The Colour of Our Future makes a bold and ambitious contribution to the discourse on race It addresses the tension between the promise of a post racial society and the persistence of racialised identities in South Africa which has historically played itself out in debates between the I don't see race of non racialism and the I'm proud to be black of black consciousness The chapters in this volume highlight the need for a race transcendent vision that moves beyond the festival of negatives embodied in concepts such as non racialism non sexism anti colonialism and anti apartheid Steve Biko's notion of a joint culture is the scaffold on which this vision rests it recognises that a race transcendent society can only be built by acknowledging the constituent elements of South Africa's EuroAfricanAsian heritage The distinguished authors in this volume have over the past two decades used the democratic space to insert into the public domain new conversations around the intersections of race and the economy race and the state race and the environment race and ethnic difference and race and higher education Presented here is some of their most trenchant and yet still evolving thinking Doomed Interventions Kim Yi Dionne, 2017-12-07 Between 2002 and 2013 bilateral donors spent over 64 billion on AIDS intervention in low and middle income countries During the same period nearly 25 million died of AIDS and more than 32 million were newly infected with HIV In this book for students of political economy and public policy in Africa as well as global health Kim Yi

Dionne tries to understand why AIDS interventions in Africa often fail The fight against AIDS requires the coordination of multiple actors across borders and levels of governance in highly affected countries and these actors can be the primary sources of the problem Dionne observes misaligned priorities along the global chain of actors and argues this misalignment can create multiple opportunities for failure Analyzing foreign aid flows and public opinion polls Dionne shows that while the international community highly prioritizes AIDS ordinary Africans view AIDS as but one of the many problems they face daily

The Politics of Potential Michelle Pentecost, 2024-01-12 The first one thousand days of human life or the period between conception and age two is one of the most pivotal periods of human development Optimizing nutrition during this time not only prevents childhood malnutrition but also determines future health and potential The Politics of Potential examines early life interventions in the first one thousand days of life in South Africa drawing on fieldwork from international conferences government offices health care facilities and the everyday lives of fifteen women and their families in Cape Town Michelle Pentecost explores various aspects of a politics of potential a term that underlines the first one thousand days concept and its effects on clinical care and the lives of childbearing women in South Africa Why was the First One Thousand Days project so readily adopted by South Africa and many other countries Pentecost not only explores this question but also discusses the science of intergenerational transmissions of health disease and human capital and how this constitutes new forms of intergenerational responsibility The women who are the target of first one thousand days interventions are cast as both vulnerable and responsible for the health of future generations such that despite its history intergenerational responsibility in South Africa remains entrenched in powerfully gendered and racialized ways Yearbook of International Organizations 2014-2015 (Volume 4) Union Of International Associations, Union of International Associations, 2014-09-17 The Yearbook of International Organizations provides the most extensive coverage of non profit international organizations currently available Detailed profiles of international non governmental and intergovernmental organizations IGO collected and documented by the Union of International Associations can be found here In addition to the history aims and activities of international organizations with their events publications and contact details the volumes of the Yearbook include networks between associations biographies of key people involved and extensive statistical data Providing both an international organizations and research bibliography Volume 4 cites over 46 000 publications and information resources supplied by international organizations and provides nearly 18 000 research citations under 40 subject headings This volume also includes a research bibliography on international organizations and transnational associations Farmer's Weekly, 1924 Farming Ahead with the Kondinin Group, 2005 World Meetings: Social & Behavioral Sciences, Education & Management, 1977 Braby's Commercial Directory of Southern Africa, 1994 Who's who in America, 1962 International Economic Papers, 1951
