Christopher Kenworthy

Mastershots Volume Ways To Shoot Great Dialogue Scenes:

Master Shots Christopher Kenworthy, 2011 Building on the success of the bestselling Master Shots this volume goes much deeper revealing the great directors secrets for making the most of the visual during the usual static dialogue scene Includes more than 200 diagrams illustrating camera positions Master Shots Christopher Kenworthy, 2015 This is the Chinese Simplified version Dialogue scenes are the most important moments in your film but most directors get them wrong If you block your scenes well you do more than capture the basic scene you echo the meaning emotion and drama of every moment That is never more important than with dialogue Whatever your budget there is an exciting way to capture dialogue It is a tragedy that so many directors are happy to open a scene with a moving master shot and then just settle into dull coverage for the dialogue You can do better than that and Master Shots Vol 2 gives you 100 ways to shoot dynamic dialogue

Can integrated titles improve the viewing experience? Wendy Fox, 2018 Historically a dubbing country Germany is not well known for subtitled productions But while dubbing is predominant in Germany more and more German viewers prefer original and subtitled versions of their favourite shows and films Conventional subtitling however can be seen as a strong intrusion into the original image that can not only disrupt but also destroy the director's intended shot composition and focus points Long eye movements between focus points and subtitles decrease the viewer's information intake and especially German audiences who are often not used to subtitles seem to prefer to wait for the next subtitle instead of looking back up again Furthermore not only the placement but also the overall design of conventional subtitles can disturb the image composition for instance titles with a weak contrast inappropriate typeface or irritating colour system So should it not despite the translation process be possible to preserve both image and sound as far as possible Especially given today's numerous artistic and technical possibilities and the huge amount of work that goes into the visual aspects of a film taking into account not only special effects but also typefaces opening credits and text image compositions A further development of existing subtitling guidelines would not only express respect towards the original film version but also the translator's work The presented study shows how integrated titles can increase information intake while maintaining the intended image composition and focus points as well as the aesthetics of the shot compositions During a three stage experiment the specifically for this purpose created integrated titles in the documentary Joining the Dots by director Pablo Romero Fresco were analysed with the help of eye movement data from more than 45 participants Titles were placed based on the gaze behaviour of English native speakers and then rated by German viewers dependant on a German translation The results show that a reduction of the distance between intended focus points and titles allow the viewers more time to explore the image and connect the titles to the plot The integrated titles were rated as more aesthetically pleasing and reading durations were shorter than with conventional subtitles Based on the analysis of graphic design and filmmaking rules as well as conventional subtitling standards a first workflow and set of placement strategies for integrated titles were created in order to allow a more respectful handling of film material as well as the preservation of the original image composition and typographic film identity

Ida Lupino as Film Director, 1949-1953 Lucy Ann Liggett Stewart, 1980 Gaspar Noé Geoffrey Lokke, 2024-09-25 Since the release of his breakout film Irrversible in 2002 Gaspar Noé 1963 has been labeled the principal provocateur of twenty first century French cinema While many of the filmmaker's complex and daring works have been reduced by his critics to their innumerable depictions of hallucinogens violence and unsimulated sexual intercourse the latter rendered into vertiginous 3D with his film Love other viewers have remained in steady awe of No's dizzying camerawork immersive visuality and expressive editing No's cinema greets the short attention spans of digital life with works of extremities and endurance for performers and spectators alike This first of its kind collection of interviews documents No's engagement with the feverish reception of his work and received ideas about his life and politics Collecting conversations with critics scholars and artists including fellow directors Matthew Barney Abel Ferrara and Harmony Korine No speaks about his process as a writer director cinematographer and editor Also examined are his engagement with developing film technology and his fascination and indebtedness to past filmmakers such as Pier Paolo Pasolini Jean Eustache Stanley Kubrick and Sam Peckinpah No discusses life in Buenos Aires and emigrating to France his use of irony and melodrama and his interest in documentary practices Throughout No explores his continuing examination of faith and secularism body and mind and the politics of spectatorship Editor Geoffrey Lokke's introduction provides a close reading of No in conversation assessing what has changed over the years in terms of the filmmaker's aesthetics and presentation of self as well as what No is reticent to articulate about his life and art The Macmillan Film Bibliography

George Rehrer, 1982 Grammar of the Film Language Daniel Arijon, 1991 A unique guide to the visual narrative techniques that form the language of filmmaking This language is basic to the very positioning and moving of players and cameras as well as the sequencing and pacing of images It does not date as new technologies alter the means of capturing images on film and tape The guidelines offered here will inform almost every choice that the director the cinematographer and the editor will make Through lucid text and more than 1 500 illustrations Arijon presents visual narrative formulas that will enlighten anyone involved in the motion picture and television industry including producers writers and animators From publisher description Me and You and Memento and Fargo J.J. Murphy, 2007-03-15 Within the last twenty five years an enormous burst of creative production has emerged from independent filmmakers From Stranger than Paradise 1984 and Slacker 1991 to Gus Van Sant's Elephant 2003 and Miranda July's Me and You and Everyone We Know 2005 indie cinema has become part of mainstream culture But what makes these films independent Is it simply a matter of budget and production values Or are there aesthetic qualities that set them off from ordinary Hollywood entertainment In this groundbreaking new study J.J. Murphy argues that the independent feature film from the 1980s to the present has developed a distinct approach of its own centering on new and different conceptions of cinematic storytelling The film script is the heart of the creative originality to be found in the independent movement Even directors noted for their idiosyncratic visual style or the handling of performers typically originate their material and write their own scripts By studying the principles underlying the independent screenplay we gain a direct sense of the originality of this new trend in American cinema Me and You and Memento and Fargo also presents a unique vision for the aspiring screenwriter Most screenwriting manuals and guidebooks on the market rely on formulas believed to generate saleable Hollywood films Many writers present a three act paradigm as gospel and proceed to lay down very stringent rules for characterization plotting timing of climaxes and so on while others who appear to be more open about such rules turn out to be just as inflexible in their advice Through in depth critical analyses of some of the most significant independent films of recent years J J Murphy emphasizes the crucial role that novelty can play in the screenwriting process International Film Guide ,1973 Films and Filming ,1986
