

This diagram shows an exploded view of a mechanical assembly. The central component is a rectangular block with multiple circular openings, labeled with numbers 1 through 10. To its left is a complex assembly of curved parts, including a large circular flange (11) and a smaller component (12). Below the central block is a rectangular housing or base (13). To the right of the central block is a curved arm or bracket (14) and a circular ring (15). At the bottom right is a cylindrical component (16). The diagram uses leader lines to connect the numbers to their respective parts.
