Exercise 1: Java How To Program 9th Edition Exercise Solutions

The first exercise in this chapter is designed to help you understand the basic concepts of Java. It is a simple program that prints out the text "Hello, World!". This is a common first program for many programmers. The code is as follows:

```
1 public class Hello {
2     public static void main(String[] args) {
3         System.out.println("Hello, World!");
4     }
5 }
```

The code consists of a single class named "Hello". Inside the class, there is a method named "main". This method is the entry point of the program. It calls the "println" method of the "System.out" object to print the text "Hello, World!".

The code is compiled and run using the Java compiler and the Java runtime environment. The output of the program is "Hello, World!".
