

Grounding, Metaphysical Explanation, and the Structure of Reality

ABSTRACT: This paper explores a new approach to characterising the structure of reality. Sensum is to be characterised in terms of metaphysical explanations, where metaphysical explanations are answers to what-makes-it-the-case-that questions. Constraints on the question asked guarantee the role of understanding in explanation, and allow (but do not require) that explanations might be holistic, and might obtain in domains of discourse about which we are uncertain. I consider some objections to the view, in particular to my claim that metaphysical structure is not itself fundamental, and I argue that the account developed here is superior to accounts which take the structure of reality to be characterised in terms of grounding relations.

Contemporary metaphysics has become preoccupied with talk of grounding. Grounding relations are thought to be apt to cash out our intuitions about ontological dependence, to characterise the structure of reality, and to back a certain kind of explanation. In this paper I argue that the work earmarked for grounding can be achieved, more simply and more effectively, by concentrating instead on the notion of metaphysical explanation with which grounding is usually taken to be closely associated. In the literature, talk of metaphysical explanation is somewhat vague, and the notion is underdeveloped and very rarely discussed apart from in discussions of grounding. My aim here is to develop a stand-alone theory of metaphysical explanation, and to explain how we can use it in characterising the structure of reality.

I begin in §1 by briefly introducing the notion of grounding and its relation to explanation and fundamentality. In §2 I highlight key features of the discussion of metaphysical explanation in the literature. §3 is where I outline my preferred account of metaphysical explanation, and I explain how it can be used to give a characterisation of the structure of reality in §4. In §5 I compare the picture I develop here with the orthodox picture which includes both grounding and metaphysical explanation.¹ §6 concludes.

¹ I am not able here to consider other approaches to limiting the structure of reality, such as those developed by Chalmers (2012), Lewis (1983; 1984; 1986), or Sider (2011). I am also not able to consider alternatives to my preferred way of thinking about metaphysical explanation in any detail.
