Handbook of Behavior, Food and Nutrition Victor R. Preedy, Ronald Ross Watson, Colin

R. Martin, 2011-04-15 This book disseminates current information pertaining to the modulatory effects of foods and other food substances on behavior and neurological pathways and importantly vice versa This ranges from the neuroendocrine control of eating to the effects of life threatening disease on eating behavior The importance of this contribution to the scientific literature lies in the fact that food and eating are an essential component of cultural heritage but the effects of perturbations in the food cognitive axis can be profound The complex interrelationship between neuropsychological processing diet and behavioral outcome is explored within the context of the most contemporary psychobiological research in the area This comprehensive psychobiology and pathology themed text examines the broad spectrum of diet behavioral and neuropsychological interactions from normative function to occurrences of severe and enduring psychopathological processes

Molecular mechanisms for reprogramming hippocampal development and function by early-life stress

Xiao-Dong Wang, Mathias V. Schmidt, 2016-04-06 The early postnatal period is a crucial stage for hippocampal development During this critical period the neonatal hippocampus is highly sensitive to the detrimental consequences of adverse environmental factors Extensive clinical and preclinical evidence has shown that traumatic events early in life have profound and persistent effects on hippocampal function and behavior This research topic focuses on the acute and lasting effects of early life stress on various developmental processes in the hippocampus and aims to uncover the molecules that are responsible for early life stress programmed effects and underlie resilience or vulnerability to stress related neuropsychiatric disorders later in life We hope the articles in this research topic will provide novel insights and stimulate future studies on the mechanisms of early life stress and brain development
