Heritage Language Policies around the World Corinne A. Seals, Sheena Shah, 2017-09-18 Heritage language policies define the context in which heritage languages are maintained or abandoned by communities and this volume describes and analyzes international policy strategies as well as the implications for the actual heritage language speakers. This volume brings together heritage language policy case studies from around the world foregrounding globalization by covering five regions: the Americas, Europe, Africa, Asia, and Australasia. The countries profiled include the United States, Canada, Argentina, Norway, Sweden, Ireland, Uganda, Namibia, Morocco, Japan, South Korea, Singapore, New Zealand, Australia, and Fiji. This volume also highlights an expanded definition of heritage language, choosing to focus on individual and community identities and therefore including both Indigenous and immigrant languages. Focusing specifically on language policy relating to heritage languages, the chapters address key questions such as: Are heritage languages included or excluded from the national language policy discourse? What are the successes and shortcomings of efforts to establish heritage language policies? What is the definition of heritage language in official usage by the local, regional, government and stakeholders? How are these language policies perceived by the actual heritage language communities?

Gender Inequality, 2024-06-05 Gender Inequality Issues: Challenges and New Perspectives brings together advancements and empirical studies on gender studies from different parts of the world. Focusing on issues, challenges and new perspectives on gender inequalities in multiple spheres and multiple countries, the book is an interdisciplinary and international compilation of studies on gender that also offers insight into future directions for the field. The book will appeal to those interested in empirical and practical advancements in gender studies, particularly students, teachers and researchers across disciplines as well as professionals, employers and practitioners who are working towards addressing gender inequalities across the world.

Status of digital agriculture in 47 sub-Saharan African countries Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, International Telecommunication Union, 2022-01-07 Sub-Saharan Africa is uniquely positioned to significantly increase its current agricultural productivity to lift the region's more than 400 million people out of extreme poverty and improve the livelihood of approximately 250 million smallholder farmers and pastoralists in the region. To achieve that substantive digital transformation of the agriculture sector is required through improved infrastructure and increased access to and use of digital technologies for agriculture. To improve the current understanding of sub-Saharan Africa's digital agriculture landscape, the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, FAO and the International Telecommunication Union, ITU undertook this study in 47 countries. The report is composed of 47 desk-based country case studies against six thematic focal areas, the aim of which is to present a snapshot of the status of digital agriculture in each country. This is followed by highlights of the main findings of the analysis of the country profiles with suggested steps for future action The findings of the study are presented to FAO and ITU Member States as well as all relevant stakeholders with the purpose of advancing and supporting investment in digital transformation of the agricultural sector in sub Saharan Africa
