Designing Interaction and Interfaces for Automated Vehicles Neville Stanton, Kirsten M. A. Revell, Patrick Langdon, 2021-03-10 Driving automation and autonomy are already upon us and the problems that were predicted twenty years ago are beginning to appear These problems include shortfalls in expected benefits equipment unreliability driver skill fade and error inducing equipment designs Designing Interaction and Interfaces for Automated Vehicles User Centred Ecological Design and Testing investigates the difficult problem of how to interface drivers with automated vehicles by offering an inclusive human centred design process that focusses on human variability and capability in interaction with interfaces This book introduces a novel method that combines both systems thinking and inclusive user centred design It models driver interaction provides design specifications concept designs and the results of studies in simulators on the test track and in road going vehicles This book is for designers of systems interfaces interactions UX Human Factors and Ergonomics researchers and practitioners involved with systems engineering and automotive academics _ In this book Prof Stanton and colleagues show how Human Factors methods can be applied to the tricky problem of interfacing human drivers with vehicle automation They have developed an approach to designing the human automation interaction for the handovers between the driver and the vehicle This approach has been tested in driving simulators and most interestingly in real vehicles on British motorways The approach called User Centred Ecological Interface Design has been validated against driver behaviour and used to support their ongoing work on vehicle automation I highly recommend this book for anyone interested or involved in designing human automation interaction in vehicles and beyond Professor Michael A Regan University of NSW Sydney AUSTRALIA

Everyday Lifestyles and Sustainability Fabricio Chicca,Brenda Vale,Robert Vale,2018-04-09 The impact of humanity on the earth overshoots the earth s bio capacity to supply humanity s needs meaning that people are living off earth s capital rather than its income However not all countries are equal and this book explores why apparently similar patterns of daily living can lead to larger and smaller environmental impacts The contributors describe daily life in many different places in the world and then calculate the environmental impact of these ways of living from the perspective of ecological and carbon footprints This leads to comparison and discussion of what living within the limits of the planet might mean Current footprints for countries are derived from national statistics and these hide the variety of impacts made by individual people and the choices they make in their daily lives This book takes a bottom up approach by calculating the footprints of daily living The purpose is to show that small changes in behaviour now could avoid some very challenging problems in the future Offering a global perspective on the question of sustainable living this book will be of great interest to anyone with a concern for the future as well as students and researchers in environmental studies human geography and development studies

Advances in Human Aspects of Transportation Neville A Stanton,2017-06-22 This book discusses the latest advances in research and development design operation and analysis of transportation systems and their complementary infrastructures It reports on both theories and case studies on road and rail aviation and maritime transportation The book covers a wealth of topics from accident analysis vehicle intelligent control and human error and safety issues to next generation transportation systems model based design methods simulation and training techniques and many more A special emphasis is given to smart technologies and automation in transport as well as to user centered ergonomic and sustainable design of transport systems The book which is based on the AHFE 2017 International Conference on Human Factors in Transportation held on July 17 21 Los Angeles California USA mainly addresses transportation system designers industrial designers human computer interaction researchers civil and control
