Burton, 2015-10-03 A Powerful True Story of a Child in Slavery on a Southern Plantation Memories of Childhood s Slavery Days Recollections of a Happy Life By Annie L. Burton The memory of my happy care free childhood days on the plantation with my little white and black companions is often with me Neither master nor mistress nor neighbors had time to bestow a thought upon us for the great Civil War was raging That great event in American history was a matter wholly outside the realm of our childish interests Of course we heard our elders discuss the various events of the great struggle but it meant nothing to us On the plantation there were ten white children and fourteen colored children Our days were spent roaming about from plantation to plantation not knowing or caring what things were going on in the great world outside our little realm Planting time and harvest time were happy days for us How often at the harvest time the planters discovered cornstalks missing from the ends of the rows and blamed the crows We were called the little fairy devils To the sweet potatoes and peanuts and sugar cane we also helped ourselves Those slaves that were not married served the food from the great house and about half past eleven they would send the older children with food to the workers in the fields Of course I followed and before we got to the fields we had eaten the food nearly all up When the workers returned home they complained and we were whipped The slaves got their allowance every Monday night of molasses meat corn meal and a kind of flour called dredgings or shorts Perhaps this allowance would be gone before the next Monday night in which case the slaves would steal hogs and chickens Then would come the whipping post Master himself never whipped his slaves this was left to the overseer
