Now more than ever the rapid responsiveness readiness flexibility precision and strategic mobility of maritime forces are essential to ensuring continued access and security in the global commons and the littoral regions that border them As the Nation prepares for an uncertain future its maritime and amphibious capabilities are essential to deterrence building alliances denying sanctuary projecting influence and when required projecting power against increasingly lethal and asymmetric adversaries Rapidly evolving security and fiscal environments however demand corresponding changes in our forward deployed crisis response force to include operational thinking concepts education training capabilities and partnerships Increasingly more capable and irregular threats to our national interests require an integrated multidomain approach informed by continuous innovation in naval war fighting littoral maneuver and amphibious operations Amphibious capability has an aggregate utility across the range of military operations that is reflected in combatant commander demand Approaches such as single naval battle an integrated naval expeditionary system broadened combined arms and special operations integration are an effective counter to increasingly capable anti access and area denial A2AD threats that seek to limit our freedom of action Above all we guard against surprise and preserve our nation s readiness through vigorous professional education training war gaming experimentation and exercises that integrate the naval special operations forces SOF joint inter agency and multinational force Future fights are most likely short warning come as you are challenges from an irregular threat As the joint expeditionary force in readiness the Marine Corps and its Navy partner will maneuver from the sea to apply influence and power at a time and place of its choosing In doing so the naval team mitigates risk and sets initial conditions for the joint and inter agency force U.S. Naval Institute Proceedings United States Naval Institute,2014 Asia's Naval Expansion Geoffrey Till,2012

The Asia Pacific region is likely to be the fulcrum of international security affairs in the twenty first century As the region s economies become stronger defense budgets are rising and navies are expanding and modernizing Some aspects of this procurement drive show signs of action reaction dynamics between peer competitors the hallmark of an arms race Is the Asia Pacific on the brink of an outright naval arms race that could entail vast expenditures threaten regional security and severely disrupt global trade Or can rising naval capabilities and a desire for prestige among regional powers be reconciled with economic interdependence freedom of navigation and managed competition between great powers This analyzes the naval expansion of the four major Asia Pacific powers the US China India and Japan It looks at recent and planned procurement to find examples of action reaction behavior and analyzes the underlying tensions and the potential for competition It offers an insight into the size expenditure and capability of the naval forces in each country and the role of the navy in overall military strategy examines naval philosophies and specific security concerns and how these will influence decision making and assesses how each nation s naval strategy is evolving in response not only to global threats but to shifts in the regional power balance Back cover

Combined Arms Warfare in the Twentieth Century Jonathan Mallory House,2001 For centuries the world has witnessed the development and use of increasingly complex and powerful military systems and technologies In the process the art of war has truly become the art of combined arms warfare in which infantry artillery air support intelligence and other key elements are all coordinated for maximum effect Nowhere has this trend been more visible than in the history of twentieth century warfare Originally published as an essential in house study for U S Army officers during the 1980s this much revised and expanded edition remains the most complete study available on the subject Rewritten with a much wider readership in mind it both retains its enormous practical utility for military professionals and provides a valuable and appealing introduction for scholars and general readers Jonathan House author of the original work brings the story of combined arms up to the present covering among other things Desert Storm the war in Chechnya and the rise of smart weapons and related technologies He traces the evolution of tactics weapons and organization in five major militaries American British German Russian and French over 100 years of warfare Revealing both continuities and contrasts within and between these fighting forces he also provides illuminating glimpses of Israeli and Japanese contributions to combined arms doctrine Expanding his insightful analysis of the world wars and the wars in Korea and Vietnam House also offers much new material focused on the post Vietnam period

Throughout he analyzes such issues as command and control problems of highly centralized organizations the development of special operations forces advances in weapons technology including ballistic and anti ballistic missile systems the trade offs involved in using heavy versus light armed forces and the enduring obstacles to effective cooperation between air and land forces His strong critique of the air superiority propaganda that came out of the Gulf War is sure to spark some heated debates Rigorously comparative House s study addresses significant questions about how nations prepare for war learn or don t learn its harsh lessons and adapt to changing times and technologies Unique in the annals of the literature on warfare it will be the standard work on this subject for a long time to come United States Naval Institute Proceedings ,2005

Saudi Arabia Enters the 21st Century Anthony H. Cordesman,2003 Writing largely for an audience of U S foreign policy makers Cordesman Center for Strategic and International Studies assesses the strategic future of Saudi Arabia Political factors impacting external and internal stability are discussed as are such issues as social and demographic trends the structure of the economy and the politics of oil Cordesman makes a number of recommendations for political and economic reform most of which seem to be based on the continuance of the status quo U S Saudi political and military relationship but purposely avoids overarching theories about the country Because regional realities are currently under a state of rapid flux updates to the work are said to be expected at the Center s Web site A companion volume looks at military and state security issues Annotation c 2003 Book News Inc Portland OR booknews com Asia-Pacific Defence Reporter ,2004 Jane's International Defense Review ,2006 Defence Update (International) ,1985 Government Reports Announcements & Index ,1993 F&S Index United States Annual ,1999 Defense & Diplomacy ,1989
