Korean Unification In A New Era Csis Reports:

Korean Unification in a New Era Victor D. Cha, 2014 In light of growing discussion about the future of the Korean peninsula the CSIS Korea Chair held a major conference featuring senior level policy and scholarly discussions on the topic of unification and this report provides a record of that conference It was a landmark event addressing economic business political and security opportunities of unification and it was cohosted with the National Research Council for Economics Humanities and Social Sciences NRCS of the Republic of Korea and a consortium of other institutions Korean Unification in a New Era Victor Cha, 2014-12-19 In light of growing discussion about the future of the Korean peninsula the CSIS Korea Chair held a major conference featuring senior level policy and scholarly discussions on the topic of unification and this report provides a record of that conference It was a landmark event addressing economic business political and security opportunities of unification and it was cohosted with the National Research Council for Economics Humanities and Social Sciences NRCS of the Republic of Korea and a consortium of other institutions Asia-Pacific Rebalance 2025 Michael Green, Kathleen Hicks, Mark F. Cancian, 2016-02-04 In 2015 Congress tasked the Department of Defense to commission an independent assessment of U S military strategy and force posture in the Asia Pacific as well as that of U S allies and partners over the next decade This CSIS study fulfills that congressional requirement The authors assess U S progress to date and recommend initiatives necessary to protect U S interests in the Pacific Command area of responsibility through 2025 Four lines of effort are highlighted 1 Washington needs to continue aligning Asia strategy within the U S government and with allies and partners 2 U S leaders should accelerate efforts to strengthen ally and partner capability capacity resilience and interoperability 3 the United States should sustain and expand U S military presence in the Asia Pacific region and 4 the United States should accelerate development of innovative capabilities and concepts for U S forces The Future of the Korean Peninsula Mason Richey, Jagannath P. Panda, David A. Tizzard, 2021-07-28 This book considers both Koreas North Korea and South Korea to examine possible pathways for the years leading up to 2032 and beyond thus offering a composite picture of Korea and its strategic relevance in Asia and the world at large Through a combined South North Olympic team and an effort of jointly hosting the Games Republic of Korea president Moon Jae in has marked the year 2032 as special in the future of the Korean Peninsula Although the International Olympic Committee IOC has expressed scepticism about a combined hosting of the Games the expectation in Korea is that this event will underline the shared destiny of the people inhabiting the peninsula and realign two states still caught in an ideologically fraught civil conflict that is one of the last vestiges of the Cold War Chapters begin with a brief historical review and analysis of the present before moving to consider how these will shape the next decade drawing comparative and complementary analyses No matter how contrasting the contemporary trajectories of both North and South Korea might appear Korea as a singular entity is an old concept still containing great possibilities As the ongoing inter Korean reconciliation process underscores the futures of North and South

Korea can be found in a complementary singular Korea which would again represent an important political strategic cultural and social space in Asia An evaluation of the future trajectory social awareness and perception of the Koreas this book offers a valuable contribution to the study of North and South Korea and Asian Politics Routledge Handbook of Chinese Security Lowell Dittmer, Maochun Yu, 2015-05-08 Located in the center of Asia with one of the largest land frontiers in the world and 14 neighbors whose dispositions could not easily be predicted China has long been obsessed with security In this handbook an internationally renowned team of contributors provide a comprehensive and systematic analysis of contemporary thinking about Chinese national security Chapters cover the PRC s historical ideological and doctrinal heritage related to security its security arrangements and policies targeting key regions and nations of the world the security aspects of the PRC s ground air sea space and cyber forces as well as the changing and expanding definition and scope of China s security theory and practice International Journal of Korean Unification Studies ,2006 Leadership and Policy Innovation - From Clinton to Bush Joseph R. Cerami, 2012-10-12 Throughout the Cold War there were longstanding efforts to control the spread of Weapons of Mass Destruction WMD through extensive arms control deterrence and defense programs Since then counterproliferation efforts by the U S and international community have accelerated Given the attention to counterproliferation in the last decade how effective was the leadership provided by President Clinton and his Secretaries of Defense Aspin Perry and Cohen in providing innovative and effective policies for countering the proliferation of WMD Comparing the cases of U S North Korea Agreed Framework the Nunn Lugar Cooperative Threat Reduction Program and U S and U N efforts in Iraq under Saddam Hussein Joseph R Cerami examines patterns of organizational leadership and policy innovation in the development and implementation of WMD policy initiatives Rather than criticize the framework of American and international political institutions this leadership perspective draws important insights on the capabilities of institutions to further U S and international goals and objectives in security policymaking In doing so the book argues that the U S s role and the roles of its internal government agencies are most significant in international affairs Smartly and appealingly positioned at the intersection of theory and practice Cerami s book crafts a new perspective in international relations and public administration offering great potential for understanding as well as designing policy innovations to counter the proliferation of WMD in the 21st century The Black Box Victor D. Cha, 2024-09-03 North Korea is commonly thought of as the most mysterious place in the world The country is marked by its opacity and inaccessibility its inner workings seen as impossible for outsiders to grasp In this groundbreaking book the leading scholar and practitioner Victor D Cha shines a light into the black box of North Korea and draws critical lessons for the possible reunification of Korea after many decades of division The Black Box demonstrates convincingly that North Korea while far from transparent is less inscrutable than is typically assumed Using innovative research methods from data scraping to ethnography including microsurveys of ordinary North Koreans Cha unearths a trove of new information Through these pioneering findings and incorporating his experiences as a White House official negotiating with North Korean interlocutors and traveling to North Korea he paints a vivid picture of this enigmatic country and develops a grounded account of its behavior Cha explores the regime's core tendencies its policies toward the U S South Korea alliance cybersecurity threats the potential for economic development the growth of a nascent civil society and pathways toward Korean unification among other topics The Black Box provides both an essential understanding of contemporary North Korea and an insightful guide to studying the country from one of the world's most esteemed experts
