Abstract

A research is valid when a conclusion is accurate or true and research design is the conceptual blueprint within which research is conducted. A scholar for his research, prepare an action plan, it constitutes the outline of collection, measurement and analysis of data. Research design is not associated to any particular technique of data collection or any particular type of data. When designing research it is necessary that we recognize the type of evidence required to answer the research question in a reasonable way.<sup>1</sup> This chapter has sketched the purpose, its importance and types of research design.

Introduction

Research design can be considered as the structure of research it is the "Glue" that holds all of the elements in a research project together, in short it is a plan of the proposed research work. Research design is defined by different social scientists in different terms; some of the definitions are as: according to Jahoda, Deutch & Cook "A research design is the arrangement of conditions for the collection and analysis of data in a manner that aims to combine relevance to the research purpose with economy and procedure".<sup>2</sup> Research design is the plan, structure and strategy and investigation conceived so as to obtain ensured to search question and control variance".<sup>3</sup> Henry Manheim says that research design not only anticipates and specifies the seemingly countless decisions connected with carrying out data collection, processing and analysis but it presents a logical basis for these decisions.<sup>4</sup> Zikmund defined as "a master plan specifying the methods and procedure for collecting
