Cultures of Educational Leadership Paul Miller, 2016-12-13 This book explores how to be fully cross cultural and intercultural with research and theory building in educational leadership It adopts an integrated approach to the examination of common issues across and between cultures and contexts Each chapter examines an issue or a set of issues that builds on evidence from a minimum of three countries across at least two continents The data collection methods are consistent for all countries and therefore allow meaningful conclusions to be drawn across the field All six continents are represented in the book including both developing and developed countries to ensure an open dialogue and an innovative approach to lay the foundations for future research

Teaching Educational Leadership in Muslim Countries Eugenie A. Samier, Eman S. ElKaleh, 2019-04-10 This book explores the Islamic tradition and Muslim contexts for educational administration and leadership It addresses the teaching of educational administration and leadership from an Islamic perspective by raising issues of globalised educational administration and leadership teaching as it applies in Muslim contexts that vary by culture and social institutions The book proposes alternative approaches and demonstrates that Islamic traditions have a strong foundation upon which to build in the field and are compatible with many aspects of Western theory and practices provided that sufficient modifications and adaptations are made The book focuses on postgraduate curricula and pedagogy drawing on a range of theoretical foundations and approaches that are culturally and jurisdictionally appropriate in a number of Muslim countries As such it contributes to an emerging specialisation in international and comparative educational administration and leadership that is oriented towards a broader and more diverse set of perspectives particularly from the non Western world

Educational Leadership and the Global Majority Rosemary

M. Campbell-Stephens,2021-12-01 This book introduces a term for our times Global Majority as conceptualised within the context of school leadership It examines the processes and impact over time of racially minoritising up to eighty five percent of the world s population The chapters illustrate how a decolonised cognitive reset from a minority to majority orientation moves practice from a place of subordination to one of agency and efficacy By reconnecting the people of the Global Majority with their narratives and the social and historical linkages that they have always had the book potentially contributes to a different globality where interdependence is not driven by the economic greed of the minority but the social and very human needs of the majority
