Jason Horsley, 2009-10-21 Film blurs the line between myth and reality better than any other artistic medium one could argue Using movies to explore the unconscious realms of society in order to reach a better understanding of what drives it this book examines filmmakers and films that center on schizophrenic themes of alienation paranoia breakdown fantasy dreams dementia and violence and that address as entertainment the schizophrenic experience The loss of individual identity as reflected in the films is investigated as well as the shamanic potential inherent in the broader theme Steroids Rob within the historical context of the ongoing desire to achieve the pinnacle of human sport Topics examined in detail include the three major crises of Ben Johnson's positive test in the 1988 Seoul Olympics the creation of the World Anti Doping Association and the House Committee on Government Oversight's probe into steroid use The author provides a critical examination of the current ban on steroids and boldly advocates a common sense solution to the complex problem of steroid use in sport the adoption of harm reduction strategies and policies rather than outright proscription It's Our Day

Katherine Jellison, 2008 Offers a detailed cultural history of weddings in America from 1945 to 2000 exploring the political social economic and demographic events that influenced the traditions and cost associated with weddings in the post war years The Hidden Meaning of Mass Communications Fereydoon Hoveyda, 2000-07-30 In 1917 the French poet Guillaume Apollinaire predicted the death of books in one or two centuries and their replacement by film and sound In the early sixties Marshall McLuhan proclaimed the end of the Gutenberg Galaxy Neither of these predictions has yet happened Nonetheless the development of computer science and the spread of the Internet have already changed the landscape of the media and affected the fields of book publishing journalism cinema and television In his new book Hoveyda who was involved with cinema and literature for many years scrutinizes the relationship between the different forms of media and art Drawing on his varied experience as well as on his knowledge of the arts and media he explains how cinema literally existed before literature or articulate language and that all other forms of communication stem from this innate capability to think cinematically Looking at the extraordinary technological developments in the fields of cinema television and communications Hoveyda finds a hidden purpose behind them a kind of common thread that illustrates and explains the quest of humans for communication As far back as one can go Hoveyda finds that humans were always preoccupied with the question of how to communicate what was going on in their minds They tried and found ways of transmitting to one another the impressions and ideas churning in their heads Prehistoric cave drawings hieroglyphs literature and canvas paintings were and are part of such attempts This progression of inventions seems to pursue a linear path toward externalization of their people's thoughts and dreams The pinnacle of this externalization will be reached when it becomes automatic and foregoes the use of heavy equipment Bunuel once told the author and his friends that he dreamt of the day when he would sit in a darkened room and project on a wall the film he was concocting in his head This is exactly the goal of the technological progress we witness Hoveyda's survey also includes a description of the evolution of modern cinema as he witnessed it some new and revolutionary remarks about film appreciation and filmmaking discussion of television and how it differs from cinema and observations on the impact of media on one another as well as the influence of the more recent technologies on narration styles A provocative account that will be of interest to scholars researchers students and anyone involved with the development of communications JFK, Nixon, Oliver Stone and Me Eric Hamburg, 2002-09-18 JFK Nixon Oliver Stone and Me is the funny thoughtful memoir of an accomplished former Congressional staffer who left D C for Hollywood and a job with Oliver Stone hoping to help make politically The American, 2006 Let's Entertain Philippe Vergne, Walker Art Center, 2000 Pierson Jack Gursky Andreas Wearing Gillian Land Peter Sherman Cindy Cattelan Maurizio McCarthy Paul Koons Jeff Warhol Andy Hirst Damien et al Grasping for the Wind John W. Whitehead, 2001 Whitehead applies his razor sharp thinking to the question How did our culture get into the dismal moral and cultural state it is in today He provides a fascinating sketch of 20th century culture clearly showing how the artists and culture makers influenced the philosophical and moral climate of the world today Skillfully synthesizing major philosophical movements of the century he places cultural heroes into a larger context of truth and morality Jacqueline Bouvier Kennedy Onassis Donald Spoto, 2000 Based on access to a wealth of a new material gleaned from her own writings from documents at the schools she attended from the archives of the John F Kennedy Library and from interviews with those who knew her best Art and Celebrity John A. Walker, 2003 A lively and accessible study of what happens when the serious world of art collides with celebrity Mind Fields Thomas J. Cottle, 2001 In Mind Fields Thomas J Cottle argues that the period known as adolescence is essentially a social construct influenced greatly by popular culture To understand young people therefore is to recognize how the very consciousness of adolescents is shaped by a culture dominated by the entertainment industry and the power of television and the computer constantly urging them to turn away from the normal evolution of their personal and social lives In this fundamentally distracting environment young people explore their consciousness sharing it with others as well as form their sense of identity all the while having these most inner experiences affected as much by the culture as by their own temperaments and personalities It is the culture that determines the forms of recognition and independence as well as intimacy and attachment that adolescents must learn In the end the author argues for the value of self reflection as a critical ingredient of identity formation and a fundamental antidote to distracting cultural influences Grand Theft 2000 Douglas Kellner, 2001-08-28 The battle for the White House following the election of November 7 2000 was arguably one of the major media spectacles in U S history comparable to the Army McCarthy hearings the Kennedy assassination the Watergate hearings the Iran Contra affair the O J Simpson trial and most recently the Clinton sex scandals and Impeachment trials The election was in many ways more contained and circumscribed than these other epochal events taking place over 36 days from the uncertainty of election night to Al Gore s concession on December 13 and George W Bush s acceptance of the mantle of President Elect The story was highly theatrical with ups and downs and surprises and reversals for the candidates and the global audience exhibiting unpredictability and uncertainty until the end Its colorful cast of characters and melodramatic story line could hardly be bettered by the most creative Hollywood central casting In Grand Theft 2000 Douglas Kellner recounts the story of a stolen election and Republican coup d etat focusing on the flaws of the system of democracy in the United States that allowed this event to take place Kellner examines what the events of Election 2000 tell us about politics in the U S today and the alarming consequences for democracy in the battle for the White House Grand

Theft 2000 presents a historical narrative of the heist of the presidency as well as a critique of the media and political system that registers a crisis of democracy in the U S A today Arguing that the media are largely to blame for the theft of the presidency by the Bush machine Kellner shows how failures of voting technology and literacy Republican manipulation of the Florida electoral process and political system in the counting of the votes and structural problems with the system of democracy in the United States reveals a crisis of democracy that requires radical measures Concluding sections on Lesson and Conclusions suggests some solutions to the problems revealed and a final secti Crowd Scenes Michael Tratner,2008 The movies and the masses erupted on the world stage together In a few decades around the turn of the twentieth century millions of persons who rarely could afford a night at the theater and had never voted in an election became regular paying customers at movie palaces and proud members of new political parties The question of how to represent these new masses fascinated and plagued politicians and filmmakers alike Michael Tratner examines the representations of masses the crowd scenes in Hollywood films from The Birth of a Nation through such popular love stories as Gone with the Wind The Sound of Music and Dr Zhivago He then contrasts these with similar scenes in early Soviet and Nazi films What emerges is a political debate being carried out in filmic style In both sets of films the crowd is represented as a seething cauldron of emotions
