Learning to see (better): improving visual deficits with perceptual learning Gianluca Campana, Marcello Maniglia, 2015-07-09 Perceptual learning can be defined as a long lasting improvement in a perceptual skill following a systematic training due to changes in brain plasticity at the level of sensory or perceptual areas Its efficacy has been reported for a number of visual tasks such as detection or discrimination of visual gratings De Valois 1977 Fiorentini Mayer 1983 motion direction discrimination Ball Ball Sekuler Shiu Vogels Bennett Fahle 1997 Fahle Kumar McKee Saarinen Casco Campana Campana Ellison Sireteanu Karni 1993 Saarinen Pourtois et al 2008 and extrastriate Ahissar Levi 2005 Levi Zhou et al 2006 myopia Tan Polat et al 2004 Polat 2009 Tan Fong 2008 More recently Maniglia et al 2011 perceptual learning with the lateral interactions paradigm has been successfully used for improving peripheral vision in normal people by improving contrast sensitivity and reducing crowding the interference in target discrimination due to the presence of close elements offering fascinating new perspectives in the rehabilitation of people who suffer of central vision loss such as maculopathy patients partially overcoming the structural differences between fovea and periphery that limit the vision outside the fovea One of the strongest point and a distinguishing feature of perceptual learning is that it does not just improve the subject s performance but produces changes in brain s connectivity and efficiency resulting in long lasting enduring neural changes By tailoring the paradigms on each subject's needs perceptual learning could become the treatment of choice for the rehabilitation of visual functions emerging as a simple procedure that doesn't need expensive equipment
