Sitkin, 2016-11-22 The success of nearly all public and private sector policies hinges on the behavior of individuals groups and organizations Today such behaviors are better understood than ever thanks to a growing body of practical behavioral science research However policymakers often are unaware of behavioral science findings that may help them craft and execute more effective and efficient policies The pages of this new journal will become a meeting ground a place where scientists and non scientists can encounter clearly described behavioral research that can be put into action By design the scope of BSP is broad with topics spanning health care financial decisionmaking energy and the environment education and culture justice and ethics and work place practices Contributions will be made by researchers with expertise in psychology sociology law behavioral economics organization science decision science and marketing The journal is a key offering of the Behavioral Science Policy Association in partnership with the Brookings Institution The mission of BSPA is to foster dialog between social scientists policymakers and other practitioners in order to promote the application of rigorous empirical behavioral science in ways that serve the public interest BSPA does not advance a particular agenda or political perspective The first issue s contents follow Behavioral Science Policy vol 2 no 1 Table of Contents Editors Note Spotlight Pre Kindergarten Interventions American Policy on Early Childhood Education Development Many Programs Great Hopes Modest Prospects Ron Haskins Evidence for the Benefits of State Prekindergarten Programs Myth Misrepresentation Dale C Farran Mark W Lipsey Reforming Head Start for the 21st Century A Policy Prescription Sara Mead Ashley LiBetti Mitchel Home Visiting Programs Four Evidence Based Lessons for Policymakers Cynthia Osborne Launching Preschool 2 0 A Road Map to High Quality Public Programs at Scale Christina Weiland A 10 Year Strategy of Increased Coordination Comprehensive Investments in Early Child Development Ajay Chaudry Jane Waldfogel Reimagining Accountability in K 12 Education Brian P Gill Jennifer S Lerner Paul Meosky Featured Topic Healthy Through Habit Interventions for Initiating Maintaining Health Behavioral Change Wendy Wood David Neal Making the Truth Stick the Myths Fade Lessons from Cognitive Psychology Norbert Schwarz Eryn Newman William Leach Editorial Policy The Science Teaching Efficacy Belief Instruments (STEBI A and B) James Deehan, 2016-07-28 The purpose of this Springer Brief is to provide a comprehensive review of both the STEBI methods and findings through the use of a clearly defined analytic framework A systematic review of literature yielded 107 STEBI A research items and 140 STEBI B research items The STEBI instruments have been used in a wide range of qualitative cross sectional longitudinal and experimental designs Analysis of the findings of the papers reveals that in service and pre service programs that use innovative practices such as cooperative learning inquiry based investigation and nature of science instruction can produce positive growth in participants science teaching efficacy beliefs The personal science teaching efficacy beliefs of pre service and in service teachers showed greater mean scores and higher growth than their outcome expectancies Implications are discussed

Learning as Development Daniel A. Wagner, 2017-10-04 Learning is the foundation of the human experience. It begins at birth and never stops, a continuous and malleable link across life stages of human development. Disparities in learning access and outcomes around the world have deep consequences for income, social mobility, health, and well-being. For international development practitioners faced with today's unprecedented environmental and geopolitical pressures, learning should be viewed as a touchstone and target for those seeking to truly effect global change. This book traces the path of international development work from its pre-colonial origins to the emergence of economics as the dominant discipline in the field and lays out a new agenda for policymakers, researchers, and practitioners from early education through adulthood. Learning as Development is an attempt to rethink international education in a changing world.

STEM: Innovation on Teaching and Learning Vanda Santos, Cecília Costa, Dina Tavares, 2025-02-04 This Research Topic is focused on STEM education. Based on this model, several studies have emerged on innovative approaches on teaching and learning. In order to meet the demands of developing students for the 21st century skills and given the appropriate characteristics for this goal of the STEM model, further research is needed on this topic. Being so, it is justified to carry out more research on STEM approaches such as with pre-service teachers, in-service teachers, and all levels of education. This research topic provides a stimulating and informative variety of research papers that expand and deepen our theoretical understanding on STEM innovations on teaching and learning. Taking into account the demands of developing students for the 21st century skills in this Research Topic, we aim to collect high-quality studies focused on STEM model related to pre-service teachers, in-service teachers, as well as students of all levels of education. We also intend to cover the largest variety of topics addressing this specific matter that could help to foster STEM implementation in the classroom, to sharing STEM model education training experiences. Furthermore, we are interested in contributions that provide deepening insights into the challenges and opportunities involved in adopting STEM education in teaching and learning in a sustainable way.

Informed is best Amy Brown, 2019 From the moment you share the news that you are pregnant or have a new baby, it feels like everyone becomes an expert. Did you see that headline? Did you hear that story on TV? Have you heard the latest about what they say is best? In a world overflowing with information telling you what is best for you and your baby, making decisions can feel overwhelming. Who do you trust? Who is telling the truth? And how do you know if what they are saying is right for you? How? By becoming your own expert in sorting the media spin and politics from the actual facts and data. This isn't a book that is going to tell you which decisions to make or that there is ever one right answer. It is not going to tell you that the same thing is always best for everyone. Instead, this is a guide to help you evaluate information and evidence to decide what is right for you, your body, and your baby. In three main parts, it will firstly open your eyes to how information is shared in the media and how this can affect our thinking and decision making. Next, it will help you spot who is funding, leading, and promoting research and how this can affect the content of what is shared. Finally, it will talk you through reading, understanding, and evaluating evidence for yourself across topics in pregnancy birth and caring for babies You ll learn how to spot weaknesses in methods used how to determine the real risk for you and your baby and how wider context and other factors can influence what research means for you Information is power Making your own decisions that are right for you is empowering Informed is best
