Math Studies Paper 2 2011:

Research on Teaching and Learning Probability Carmen Batanero, Egan J. Chernoff, Joachim Engel, Hollylynne S. Lee, Ernesto Sánchez, 2016-07-12 This book summarizes the vast amount of research related to teaching and learning probability that has been conducted for more than 50 years in a variety of disciplines. It begins with a synthesis of the most important probability interpretations throughout history: intuitive, classical, frequentist, subjective, logical, propensity, and axiomatic views. It discusses their possible applications, philosophical problems, as well as their potential and the level of interest they enjoy at different educational levels. Next, the book describes the main features of probabilistic thinking and reasoning, including the contrast to classical logic, probability language, features, the role of intuitions, as well as paradoxes and the relevance of modeling. It presents an analysis of the differences between conditioning and causation, the variability expression in data as a sum of random and causal variations, as well as those of probabilistic versus statistical thinking. This is followed by an analysis of probability's role and main presence in school curricula and an outline of the central expectations in recent curricular guidelines at the primary, secondary, and high school level in several countries. This book classifies and discusses in detail the three different research periods on students and people's intuitions and difficulties concerning probability: early research focused on cognitive development, a period of heuristics and biases, programs, and the current period marked by a multitude of foci, approaches, and theoretical frameworks.

Thin Groups and Superstrong Approximation Emmanuel Breuillard, Hee Oh, 2014-02-17 This collection of survey articles focuses on recent developments at the boundary between geometry, dynamical systems, number theory, and combinatorics.

Cutting-Edge Mathematics Henar Herrero, María Cruz Navarro, Hélia Serrano, 2024-08-25 The book contains a selection of research and expository papers in pure and applied mathematics presented by various authors as plenary or invited speakers at the biennial congress of the Spanish Royal Mathematical Society held in Ciudad Real, Spain, in January 2022. The main results focus on the Yang problem and its solution proposed by Globevnik, a phylogenetic reconstruction based on algebra, the Calderón problem for local and nonlocal Schrödinger equations, some open problems in orthogonal polynomial theory, Quillen's rational homotopy theory, Ulrich bundles and applications, and free objects in the theory of Banach spaces. Researchers in these fields are potential audiences.

Interactions with Lattice Polytopes Alexander M. Kasprzyk, Benjamin Nill, 2022-06-08 This book collects together original research and survey articles highlighting the fertile interdisciplinary applications of convex lattice polytopes in modern mathematics. Covering a diverse range of topics including algebraic geometry, mirror symmetry, symplectic geometry, discrete geometry, and algebraic combinatorics, the common theme is the study of lattice polytopes. These fascinating combinatorial objects are a cornerstone of toric geometry and continue to find rich and unforeseen applications throughout mathematics. The workshop Interactions with Lattice Polytopes assembled many top researchers at the Otto von Guericke University of Magdeburg in 2017 to discuss the role of lattice polytopes in their work, and many of their presented literacy and retirement planning is given observing 165 students and non students of German and non German nationality aged between 20 and 30 The findings suggest that the research findings still apply to the current status With regard to the financial literacy test we find that overall only less than half of all respondents were able to answer all three questions correctly With regard to the groups women score lower than men students do better than non students In addition we found that age and nationality are not of importance while the professional background at least in our sample can lead to a better test score As a consequence a female non student working in studying a nonbusiness economics related field discipline is most endangered With regard to the savings behavior we see differences among gender and academic backgrounds implying that male students save on average more often putting female non students at risk We did not find a statistically significant link between the financial literacy test score and savings behavior in our sample
