

Biology Test- Chapter 11: Introduction to Genetics

Multiple Choice

Identify the choice that best completes the statement or answers the question.

- Gregor Mendel used pea plants to study
 - flowering.
 - gamete formation.
 - the inheritance of traits.
 - cross-pollination.
- Offspring that result from crosses between true-breeding parents with different traits
 - are true-breeding.
 - make up the F_2 generation.
 - make up the parental generation.
 - are called hybrids.
- The chemical factors that determine traits are called
 - alleles.
 - traits.
 - genes.
 - characters.
- Gregor Mendel concluded that traits are
 - not inherited by offspring.
 - inherited through the passing of factors from parents to offspring.
 - determined by dominant factors only.
 - determined by recessive factors only.
- When Gregor Mendel crossed a tall plant with a short plant, the F_1 plants inherited
 - an allele for tallness from each parent.
 - an allele for tallness from the tall parent and an allele for shortness from the short parent.
 - an allele for shortness from each parent.
 - an allele from only the tall parent.
- The principle of dominance states that
 - all alleles are dominant.
 - all alleles are recessive.
 - some alleles are dominant and others are recessive.
 - alleles are neither dominant nor recessive.
- When Gregor Mendel crossed true-breeding tall plants with true-breeding short plants, all the offspring were tall because
 - the allele for tall plants is recessive.
 - the allele for short plants is dominant.
 - the allele for tall plants is dominant.
 - they were true-breeding like their parents.
- A tall plant is crossed with a short plant. If the tall F_1 pea plants are allowed to self-pollinate,
 - the offspring will be of medium height.
 - all of the offspring will be tall.
 - all of the offspring will be short.

Management Crisis and Business Revolution John Harte, 2017-07-05 Management Crisis and Business Revolution describes the enormous gap between business theories on the one hand and the realities of the workplace and uncertainties of the marketplace on the other In place of reasoned management and disciplined organization John Harte depicts daily disorder vagueness and confusion instead of the logical processes of classroom case histories with rational solutions He provides tales of an abundance of irrational judgments personal foibles and business follies Once a top operational manager with multinational organizations Harte applies his hands on knowledge of the business world to a realistic examination of workplace conditions He describes methodically how to handle human limitations in the average business enterprise as well as how to develop management strengths The author observed superior and inferior management firsthand and therefore witnessed the painful demise of many companies some of which in his opinion could have been saved With thirty years experience to draw on he analyzes why so many businesses and products fail while others succeed He examines the amazing progress of Japan and other Pacific Asian countries explains the decline of German Canadian British and French management practices and provides strategies for the marketplace The business sectors described in this all encompassing book include high technology fast moving packaged consumer goods like detergents manufacturing and retailing consumer durables like furniture and appliances soft goods fashion products service sector industries manufacturing wholesaling and retail trade and a whole range of new service industries Harte stresses that while management and trade are timeless dedication in the West has declined The challenge is how to manage change by innovating and replacing senile customs systems and institutions with more progressive ones suited to the new business environment This unusually tough
