THE D.P.A. TYPE FUEL INJECTION PUMP

The D.P.A. type fuel injection pump is mounted on the drive housing assembly which is attached to a machined face on the side of the cylinder block and is driven at half engine speed by the camshaft.

Description

The D.P.A. injection pump may be briefly described as a single element, opposed plunger, inlet metering, distributor type pump. It is relatively simple in design and contains no ball or roller bearings, gears, or highly stressed springs. The number of working parts remains the same, regardless of the number of engine cylinders it serves.

A mechanical governor is embodied in the pump and is completely contained within the pump housing. Fig. 112 shows the pump and mechanical governor, in section. See also Section F.

The pump is a self-contained, oil tight unit, which requires no external lubrication system. Oil pressure, which is maintained inside the pump housing, ensures the adequate lubrication of all the working parts, and prevents the ingress of dust, water or any other foreign matter which could impair the efficiency of the pump. No special lubricating oil is used, as the pump is lubricated entirely by fuel oil.

A single pumping element, having twin opposed plungers, is carried in a central rotating member which also acts as a distributor, the charges of oil being distributed in correct order to the nozzles through the pressure connections arranged round the pump body. The pump plungers operate in a transverse bore in the rotor through the action of

Mick Rennison,2016-03-16 Did the Good Old Days ever really exist Mick Rennison is not so sure After miraculously passing his test in an Atkinson Borderer way back in 1974 Mick drove in the days when crooks and con men seemed to run the haulage industry And Mick worked for most of them Earning crap wages from arrogant bosses with the constant threat of your P45 hanging over your head he learned his trade through trial and error many trials and lots of errors His career took him all over Europe and Scandinavia taking musical shows to Norway JCBs to Greece and supermarket deliveries down to Gibraltar Driving for a variety of firms he double manned trucks with his wife Jo for nearly 10 years Along the way he has been blown over in high winds outwitted hijackers and held hostage by striking Spanish drivers Now living on a narrow boat on the Grand Union Canal Mick is approaching retirement and reflects on his varied career With humour and not a little sarcasm he concludes that as good as those days were he certainly wouldn't want to go back
