Match To Flame:

Match to Flame Ray Bradbury, 2006 Ray Bradbury didn't sit down one day and write his classic novel on Censorship Fahrenheit 451 1953 He began tinkering with the idea in short stories and novellas as early as 1943 Match to Flame includes all the short stories and novellas including several previously unpublished that led to his writing Fahrenheit 451 The book leads with The Library in 1943 and ends with the novellas The Fireman published in 1951 Upholstered Furniture Tests with 15 Seconds and 20 Seconds Flame Applications, 1994 Tiivistelmä Sammanfattning Fire-Making, Storytelling, and Ceremony Mark Warren, 2020-04-01 In the second volume of the Secrets of the Forest series Mark Warren addresses a wide range of what an outdoorsperson needs to know about fire such as how to create it from scratch using three different methods hand drill bow drill and fire saw which species of trees and dried winter weeds make good candidates for a fire kit where to find tinder that can combust how to construct a fail proof pyre by mixing fast burning fuel with dense hardwood how to sustain a fire for the long term including how to safely store a smoldering fire that can survive for several days The second half of the book is dedicated to storytelling and ceremony Its main purpose is how to design stories that augment whatever lessons a teacher has in mind Such stories can familiarize students with the fine points of archery canoeing tracking stalking and other crafts or skills Borrowing from Native American traditions Warren introduces dozens of ways for young outdoorspeople to build self esteem and a deep connection with the forest This volume contains more than 100 original activities SAM-TR., 1967-09 Wildland Fire Behaviour Mark A. Finney, Sara S. McAllister, Jason M. Forthofer, Torben P. Grumstrup, 2021-11 Wildland fires have an irreplaceable role in sustaining many of our forests shrublands and grasslands They can be used as controlled burns or occur as free burning wildfires and can sometimes be dangerous and destructive to fauna human communities and natural resources Through scientific understanding of their behaviour we can develop the tools to reliably use and manage fires across landscapes in ways that are compatible with the constraints of modern society while benefiting the ecosystems The science of wildland fire is incomplete however Even the simplest fire behaviours how fast they spread how long they burn and how large they get arise from a dynamical system of physical processes interacting in unexplored ways with heterogeneous biological ecological and meteorological factors across many scales of time and space The physics of heat transfer combustion and ignition for example operate in all fires at millimetre and millisecond scales but wildfires can become conflagrations that burn for months and exceed millions of hectares Wildland Fire Behaviour Dynamics Principles and Processes examines what is known and unknown about wildfire behaviours The authors introduce fire as a dynamical system along with traditional steady state concepts They then break down the system into its primary physical components describe how they depend upon environmental factors and explore system dynamics by constructing and exercising a nonlinear model The limits of modelling and knowledge are discussed throughout but emphasised by review of large fire behaviours Advancing knowledge of fire behaviours will require a multidisciplinary approach and rely on quality measurements from experimental research as covered in the final chapters
