Literature and Science Donald Bruce,Anthony George Purdy,1994 Taking as a starting point the embeddedness of all disciplinary and interdisciplinary inquiry since interdisciplinarity is itself not a unitary phenomenon but encompasses many different knowledge practices embedded in widely differing political economic and ideological constituencies the essays in this volume explore in different ways some of the conversations currently taking place across disciplinary boundaries in the exciting new field of literature and science Like literature science is seen as a site of competing ideological constructions as a complex and richly ambiguous element of modern and postmodern social discourse circulating in a wider cultural community where its currency fluctuates according to complex changes in social and epistemic conditions including the relative prestige or cultural capital of science or literature within professional and disciplinary hierarchies at any given time

Who Can Afford to Improvise? Ed Pavlić,2015-10-12 More than a quarter century after his death James Baldwin remains an unparalleled figure in American literature and African American cultural politics In Who Can Afford to Improvise Ed Pavli offers an unconventional lyrical and accessible meditation on the life writings and legacy of James Baldwin and their relationship to the lyric tradition in black music from gospel and blues to jazz and R B Based on unprecedented access to private correspondence unpublished manuscripts and attuned to a musically inclined poet s skill in close listening Who Can Afford to Improvise frames a new narrative of James Baldwin s work and life The route retraces the full arc of Baldwin s passage across the pages and stages of his career according to his constant interactions with black musical styles recordings and musicians Presented in three books or movements the first listens to Baldwin in the initial months of his most intense visibility in May 1963 and the publication of The Fire Next Time It introduces the key terms of his lyrical aesthetic and identifies the shifting contours of Baldwin s career from his early work as a reviewer for left leaning journals in the 1940s to his last published and unpublished works from the mid 1980s Book II listens with Baldwin and ruminates on the recorded performances of Billie Holiday and Dinah Washington singers whose message and methods were closely related to his developing world view It concludes with the first detailed account of The Hallelujah Chorus a performance from July 1 1973 in which Baldwin shared the stage at Carnegie Hall with Ray Charles Finally in Book III Pavli reverses our musically inflected reconsideration of Baldwin s voice projecting it into the contemporary moment and reading its impact on everything from the music of Amy Winehouse to the street performances of Turf Feinz and the fire of racial oppression and militarization against black Americans in the 21st century Always with an ear close to the music and avoiding the safe box of celebration Who Can Afford to Improvise enables a new kind of lyrical travel with the instructive clarity and the open ended mystery Baldwin s work invokes into the world Congressional Question
