Lislam Et La Science:

L' Islam et la Science Faouzia Farida Charfi, 2021-09-22 Faouzia Charfi nous propose dans ce nouveau livre de revisiter l'histoire des sciences en pays d'islam. Une histoire commencée sous le signe de l'ouverture l'autre avec le vaste mouvement de traduction des textes anciens inauguré par le calife Al Mansur au VIII^e siècle. Une histoire qui a bifurqué dès le XI^e siècle quand la science s'est vue assujettie des fins pratiques et religieuses. Le mouvement réformiste musulman au XIX^e siècle aurait pu rebattre les cartes mais il a échoué faisant le lit du projet ambigu d'islamisation de la connaissance. Faouzia Charfi plaide ici pour une véritable séparation de la science et du religieux. Un message qui s'adresse particulièrement aux jeunes générations trop souvent séduites par un islam de pacotille surfant sur la vague des technosciences. Faouzia Charfi est physicienne et professeure à l'Université de Tunis. Personnalité politique de premier plan en Tunisie, elle est l'auteure de La Science voilée et de Sacres questions, tous deux publiés chez Odile Jacob.

L' Islamisme et la Science Ernest Renan, 2018-04-04 Les rapports d'Ernest Renan avec la religion sont complexes. Il la critique comme système de pensée tout en affirmant son importance comme facteur d'unification des sociétés humaines, ainsi que le danger de s'en détourner trop hâtivement. Dans L'Avenir de la science, il résume la situation en disant : « Quand je suis la ville, je me moque de celui qui va à la messe ; mais quand je suis la campagne, je me moque au contraire de celui qui n'y va pas ».

Arabic Thought in the Liberal Age 1798-1939 Albert Hourani, 1983-06-23 This book is a most comprehensive study of the modernizing trend of political and social thought in the Arab Middle East.

L'Islam et la science Ahmed Aroua, 1974 L'islam et la science Ernest Renan, 2019-05-06 Dans ce petit texte incisif issu d'une conférence donnée à la Sorbonne en 1883, Renan propose une réponse à la question : pourquoi le monde musulman fait-il si peu de place aux sciences ? Avant de manifester son argument, Renan conteste le rôle central attribué implicitement à la religion musulmane dans le développement scientifique du monde arabe au Moyen Âge. Cette civilisation musulmane a été autrefois très brillante. Elle a eu des savants, des philosophes. Elle a tenu pendant des siècles la main tendue de l'Occident chrétien. Pourquoi ce qui a tenu ne serait-il pas encore ? Voilà le point précis sur lequel je voudrais faire porter le débat. Y a-t-il eu réellement une science musulmane ou du moins une science admise par l'islam tolérée par l'islam ?

Mission & Science Carine Dujardin, Claude Prudhomme, 2015-03-26 Science as an instrument to justify religious missions in secular society. The relationship between religion and science is complex and continues to be a topical issue. However, it is seldom zoomed in on from both Protestant and Catholic perspectives. By doing so, the contributing authors in this collection gain new insights into the origin and development of missiology. Missiology is described in this book as a project of modernity, a contemporary form of apologetics. Scientific apologetics was the way to justify missions in a society that was rapidly becoming secularized. Mission Science deals with the interaction between new scientific disciplines: historiography, geography, ethnology, anthropology, linguistics, and new scientific insights: Darwin's evolutionary theory, heliocentrism, as well as the role of the papacy and what inspired missionary practice first in China and the Far East and later in Africa. The renewed missiology has in turn influenced the missionary practice of the twentieth century guided by apostolic policy Some missionary scholars have even had a significant influence on the scientific discourse of their time

Historiography of the History of Science in Islamicate Societies Sonja Brentjes, 2023-09-05 This book presents eight papers about important historiographical issues as debated in the history of science in Islamicate societies the history of science and philosophy of medieval Latin Europe and the history of mathematics as an academic discipline Six papers deal with themes about the sciences in Islamicate societies from the ninth to the seventeenth centuries among them novelty context and decline Two other papers discuss the historiographical practices of historians of mathematics and other disciplines in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries The central argument of the collected papers is that in addition and beyond the study of scientific texts and instruments historians of science in Islamicate societies need to pay attention to cultural material and social aspects that shaped the scientific activities of the authors and makers of such texts and instruments It is pointed out that the diachronic de-contextualized comparison between methods and results of scholars from different centuries regions and cultures often leads to serious distortions of the historical record and is responsible for the long-term neglect of scholarly activities after the so-called Golden Age The book will appeal in particular to teachers of history of science in Islamic societies to graduate students interested in issues of methodology and to historians of science grappling with the unresolved problems of how think and write about the sciences in concrete societies of the past instead of subsuming all extant texts instruments maps and other objects related to the sciences under macro level concepts like Islam or Latin Europe CS 1114 Islam et science - Comment concilier le Coran et la science moderne Nidhal Guessoum, 2016-05-11 Comment concilier le Coran et la science moderne Dans le monde d'aujourd'hui l'islam occupe une place de plus en plus importante Cela pose de fa on cruciale la question de la compatibilit  entre la vision coranique du monde et les connaissances scientifiques actuelles qui font partie int grante de la modernit  Cependant les tentatives de positionnement de l'islam vis vis de la science moderne ont  t  jusqu'ici infructueuses car elles trahissaient souvent un parti pris particulier soit hyper traditionaliste en d saccord avec certains r sultats de la science soit hyper positiviste s'opposant certains principes islamiques Ce livre destin  aussi bien aux musulmans qu'aux non musulmans montre qu'il est possible de construire une approche rigoureuse et respectueuse de la science moderne et de l'islam le Coran en particulier Prenant pour mod le conceptuel le philosophe andalou Averro s l'auteur propose une voie m diante cartant des d marches errone es telles que d'une part la th orie du contenu scientifique miraculeux du Coran le litt ralisme religieux ou la science sacr e et d'autre part le scientisme et le postmodernisme qui ne respectent pas la religion et ou la science moderne Alliant un langage clair accessible aux non sp cialistes la rigueur scientifique l'auteur passe en revue tous les fondements Dieu le Coran et la science puis traite en d tail la question de la conciliation du Coran avec les principes la m thodologie et les th ories et r sultats de la science moderne De nombreux exemples actuels sont pr sents et discut s Ce travail repr sente une d marche cruciale pour une conciliation indispensable de l'islam avec la science et la modernit  offrant une solution possible l'alternative qui pr vaut actuellement entre le litt ralisme religieux et le mat rialisme moderniste Science and Religion Yves Gingras, 2017-09-05 Today we hear renewed calls for a dialogue between science and religion why has the old question of the relations between science and religion now returned to the public domain and what is at stake in this debate To answer these questions historian and sociologist of science Yves Gingras retraces the long history of the troubled relationship between science and religion from the condemnation of Galileo for heresy in 1633 until his rehabilitation by John Paul II in 1992 He reconstructs the process of the gradual separation of science from theology and religion showing how God and natural theology became marginalized in the scientific field in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries In contrast to the dominant trend among historians of science Gingras argues that science and religion are social institutions that give rise to incompatible ways of knowing rooted in different methodologies and forms of knowledge and that there never was and cannot be a genuine dialogue between them Wide ranging and authoritative this new book on one of the fundamental questions of Western thought will be of great interest to students and scholars of the history of science and of religion as well as to general readers who are intrigued by the new and much publicized conversations about the alleged links between
