Shweder,Hazel Rose Markus,2008-04-22 Educators and policymakers who share the goal of equal opportunity in schools often hold differing notions of what entails a just school in multicultural America Some emphasize the importance of integration and uniform treatment for all while others point to the benefits of honoring cultural diversity in ways that make minority students feel at home In Just Schools noted legal scholars educators and social scientists examine schools with widely divergent methods of fostering equality in order to explore the possibilities and limits of equal education today The contributors to Just Schools combine empirical research with rich ethnographic accounts to paint a vivid picture of the quest for justice in classrooms around the nation Legal scholar Martha Minow considers the impact of school choice reforms on equal educational opportunities Psychologist Hazel Rose Markus examines culturally sensitive programs where students exhibit superior performance on standardized tests and feel safer and more interested in school than those in color blind programs Anthropologist Heather Lindkvist reports on how Somali Muslims in Lewiston Maine invoked the American ideal of inclusiveness in winning dress code exemptions and accommodations for Islamic rituals in the local public school Political scientist Austin Sarat looks at a school system in which everyone endorses multiculturalism but holds conflicting views on the extent to which culturally sensitive practices should enter into the academic curriculum Anthropologist Barnaby Riedel investigates how a private Muslim school in Chicago aspires to universalist ideals and education scholar James Banks argues that schools have a responsibility to prepare students for citizenship in a multicultural society Anthropologist John Bowen offers a nuanced interpretation of educational commitments in France and the headscarf controversy in French schools Anthropologist Richard Shweder concludes the volume by connecting debates about diversity in schools with a broader conflict between national assimilation and cultural autonomy As America s schools strive to accommodate new students from around the world Just Schools provides a provocative and insightful look at the different ways we define and promote justice in schools and in society at large

Gender, Whiteness, and Power in Rodeo Tracey Owens Patton,Sally M. Schedlock,2012-08-20 The lure of cowgirls and cowboys has hooked the American imagination with the lure of freedom and adventure since the turn of the twentieth century The cowboy and cowgirl played in the imagination and made rodeo into a symbolic representation of the Western United States As a sport that is emblematic of all things Western rodeo is a phenomenon that has since transcended into popular culture Rodeo s attraction has even spanned oceans and lives in the imaginations of many around the world From the modest start of this fantastic sport in open fields to celebrate the end of a long cattle drive or to settle a friendly who s the best bet between neighboring ranches rodeo truly has grown into an edge of the seat money drawing and crowd cheering favorite pastime However rodeo has diverse history that largely remains unaccounted for unexamined and silenced In Gender

Whiteness and Power in Rodeo Tracey Owens Patton and Sally M Schedlock visually explore how race gender and other issues of identity complicate the mythic historical narrative of the West The authors examine the experiences of ethnic minorities specifically Latinos American Indians and African Americans and women who have continued to be marginalized in rodeo Throughout the book Patton and Schedlock questioned the binary divisions in rodeo that exists between women and men and between ethnic minorities and Whites divisions that have become naturalized in rodeo and in the mind of the general public Using iconic visual images along with the voices of the marginalized Patton and Schedlock enter into the sometimes acrimonious debate of cowgirls and ethnic minorities in rodeo
