The turn of the third century CE known as the Jian an era or Three Kingdoms period holds double significance for the Chinese cultural tradition Its writings laid the foundation of classical poetry and literary criticism Its historical personages and events have also inspired works of poetry fiction drama film and art throughout Chinese history including Internet fantasy literature today There is a vast body of secondary literature on these two subjects individually but very little on their interface The image of the Jian an era with its feasting drinking heroism and literary panache as well as intense male friendship was to return time and again in the romanticized narrative of the Three Kingdoms How did Jian an bifurcate into two distinct nostalgias one of which was the first paradigmatic embodiment of wen literary graces cultural patterning and the other of wu heroic martial virtue How did these largely segregated nostalgias negotiate with one another And how is the predominantly male world of the Three Kingdoms appropriated by young women in contemporary China The Halberd at Red Cliff investigates how these associations were closely related in their complex origins and then came to be divergent in their later metamorphoses Woman's
