Meaning And Textuality:

Meaning and Textuality François Rastier, Frank Collins, Paul Perron, 1997 Rastier proposes a theoretical framework for the semantic description and typology of texts establishing a critical debate among various streams of research before arriving at a synthesis of literary semiotics, thematics and linguistic semantics The Princeton Encyclopedia of Poetry and Poetics Stephen Cushman, Clare Cavanagh, Jahan Ramazani, Paul Rouzer, 2012-08-26 The most important poetry reference for more than four decades now fully updated for the twenty first century Through three editions over more than four decades The Princeton Encyclopedia of Poetry and Poetics has built an unrivaled reputation as the most comprehensive and authoritative reference for students, scholars and poets on all aspects of its subject: history, movements, genres, prosody, rhetorical devices, critical terms and more. Now this landmark work has been thoroughly revised and updated for the twenty first century. Compiled by an entirely new team of editors, the fourth edition, the first new edition in almost twenty years, reflects recent changes in literary and cultural studies, providing up to date coverage and giving greater attention to the international aspects of poetry, all while preserving the best of the previous volumes. At well over a million words and more than 1 000 entries, the Encyclopedia has unparalleled breadth and depth. Entries range in length from brief paragraphs to major essays of 15 000 words, offering a more thorough treatment, including expert synthesis and indispensable bibliographies, than conventional handbooks or dictionaries. This is a book that no reader or writer of poetry will want to be without. Thoroughly revised and updated by a new editorial team for twenty first century students, scholars and poets. More than 250 new entries cover recent terms, movements and related topics. Broader international coverage includes articles on the poetries of more than 110 nations, regions and languages. Expanded coverage of poetries of the non Western and developing worlds. Updated bibliographies and cross references. New, easier to use page design. What makes a text a text? Ulrike Gabert, 2020-09-14 Essay from the year 2020 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Linguistics grade 1 3 AKAD University of Applied Sciences Stuttgart language English abstract In this essay the question of what makes a text a text will be discussed The seven key criteria of textuality defined by Beaugrande and Dressler will be explained using an example of a classic American drama The question at what point a text is a text or whether a text can be called a text at all is one of the core questions of linguistics and goes all the way back to the ancient Greek language theory of Plato and Aristotle which dealt with this topic at the most basic level In the 1960s the expression text became a focus of linguists with the development several definitions of what a text is Since then numerous definitions have been formed and there is no consensus about which one is the best but one can find many similarities among them The 1981 work of the Austrian linguists Robert Alain de Beaugrande and Wolfgang U Dressler has been used as the basis for many discussions and definitions of text ever since Their work is often seen as a good framework for agreement which is based on seven criteria of textuality      Text and Epistemology William Frawley, 1987      Progressive Intertextual Practice in Modern And Contemporary Literature Katherine Ebury, Christin M. Mulligan, 2024-05-07 This edited volume aims to reposition intertextuality in relation to recent trends in critical practice Inspired by the work of Sara Ahmed in particular our authors explore and reconfigure classic theories of authorship influence and the text including those by Roland Barthes Michel Foucault and Harold Bloom updating these conversations to include intersectionality specifically broadly understood to include gendered racial and other forms of social justice including disability and the progressive impact of the transmission and transformation of texts This diverse volume includes discussions of major canonical works such as James Joyce's Ulysses alongside the recent contemporary literature by authors such as Siri Husvedt and Maggie O Farrell as well as theoretical interventions This volume also engages with how intertextuality can facilitate interdisciplinary and ekphrastic thinking and representation as the inspiration of music and the visual arts for texts and their transmission is addressed The choice of intertexts become deliberately political ethical and artistic signifiers for the authors discussed in this volume and our contributors are thus enabled to address topics ranging from visual impairment to Shakespearean motherhood to the influence of Jazz culture on writing on the Northern Irish Troubles      What makes a text a text? Criteria for text functionality, 2020-10-08 Essay from the year 2020 in the subject Literature General grade 1 3 AKAD University of Applied Sciences Stuttgart language English abstract Can sentences or words that express statements or questions by any means be accepted as a text Must a text be informative and well intended to its recipients to be valued as textual or does it solely need to be meaningful and suitable for the context Furthermore what exactly does the word text or textual even mean Although one may have an intuitive understanding of what a text is it can be necessary to establish a clear distinction between a text and a non text The understanding of what makes a text a text is particularly interesting not only for translators interpreters or linguists to mention only a few but also for anyone who aims to produce comprehensible texts The knowledge helps to produce texts where clear references of textuality can be made visible      Meaning and Textuality in the Middle Ages Mary K.
