Edinburgh History of the British and Irish Press Nicholas Brownlees, Adrian Bingham, David Finkelstein, Martin Conboy, 2023-03-23 A definitive account of newspaper and periodical press history across England Ireland Scotland and Wales covering 1650 to the present day At various points over the last 400 years key political economic and social processes have worked to hinder or promote the expansion and dissemination of information across Britain and Ireland via newspapers and periodicals In a contemporary era characterized by debate on the limits of devolution and the potential of independence we need to assess the roles played by newspapers and periodicals in enabling national and regional identities to emerge cohere and diversify over time How can we best identify the most significant of these processes What were the critical flashpoints in their development How have they marked the place of the press in civic society What are the consequences in considering these within the general history of the British and Irish press This three volume prestige project addresses these matters offering a definitive account of newspaper and periodical press activity across Britain and Ireland between 1650 to the present day and addressing questions related to four key research interests general social political history newspaper and periodical history cultural history and technological history Imagining Sisterhood in Modern Chinese Texts, 1890-1937 Yun Zhu, 2017-03-16 This book investigates sisterhood as a converging thread that wove female subjectivities and intersubjectivities into a larger narrative of Chinese modernity embedded in a newly conceived global context It focuses on the period between the late Qing reform era around the turn of the twentieth century and the outbreak of the Second Sino

Japanese War in 1937 which saw the emergence of new ways of depicting Chinese womanhood in various kinds of media In a critical hermeneutic approach Zhu combines an examination of an outside perspective how narratives and images about sisterhood were mobilized to shape new identities and imaginations with that of an inside perspective how subjects saw themselves as embedded in or affected by the discourse and how they negotiated such experiences within texts or through writing With its working definition of sisterhood covering biological as well as all kinds of symbolic and metaphysical connotations this book exams the literary and cultural representations of this elastic notion with attention to on the one hand a supposedly collective identity shared by all modern Chinese female subjects and on the other hand the contesting modes of womanhood that were introduced through the juxtaposition of divergent sisters Through an interdisciplinary approach that brings together historical materials literary and cultural analysis and theoretical questions Zhu conducts a careful examination of how new identities subjectivities and sentiments were negotiated and mediated through the hermeneutic circuits around sisterhood

The British Media Industries Vincent Campbell, Paul Smith, 2023-06-29 The British Media Industries offers an accessible introduction to how the media in Britain operates and the impact that recent political economic and technological developments have had on the nature of media industries today Split into two parts this book starts by exploring approaches to understanding contemporary media industries through political economic and technological terms The second part delves further into issues and practices relating to individual media industries including newspapers magazines film television music video games and social media The book adopts a political economy approach and is designed to engage students in an accessible way with key issues around the ownership and control of different sectors of the British media UK and EU government regulation of the media including content regulation and market economic regulation and the corporate strategies employed by leading media players such as the BBC Netflix Google and Apple This is an essential textbook for undergraduate students approaching British media industries for the first time and will also be relevant to students undertaking introductory courses in Media Management and Media Economics
