The Triumph of Managerialism? Anna Yeatman,Bogdan Costea,2018-10-16 This collection presents a critical dialogue on managerialist forms of government between philosophy political thought organisational and management theory The volume brings together essays that are concerned with technologies of government that are articulated as different iterations of managerialism. The hallmark of managerialist discourse is value considered as a quantifiable abstraction where the intention is to always add value. The central question addressed here by a team of international expert authors from across a range of disciplines is this: in what ways has this abstraction of value impacted on the substantive work and ethical integrity of government and the public sector and more broadly of the professions including that of management itself? Has it displaced this work or simply recast it? The volume addresses audiences in social sciences, philosophy, management, business and organisational studies.

Cases on Management, Leadership and Organisations Knud Sinding, Anne Bøllingtoft, 2012-10-11. The realities of organisational life seem a far departure from what is taught in the classroom particularly if one has never before worked for an organisation. The examples presented in this book bring to life the challenges of managing and leading organisations and are relevant for students who must learn to analyse, discuss and assess what takes place within organisations, what ought to happen and why certain strategies fail. The book contains 24 case studies from a range of organisations, some anonymous and others known. Among other things, the case studies include profiles of leaders or managers, the organisational structure, decision making and information flow in each organisation. The businesses covered range widely from anonymous government offices to the arcane peculiarities of university departments and to vast shipping conglomerates.
