The Magic of the Middle Ages By Viktor Rydberg The Magic of the People and the Struggle of the Church Against It Complete New Edition It was the belief of Europe during the Middle Ages that our globe was the centre of the universe The earth itself fixed and immovable was encompassed by ten heavens successively encircling one another and all of these except the highest in constant rotation about their centre This highest and immovable heaven enveloping all the others and constituting the boundary between created things and the void infinite space beyond is the Empyrean the heaven of fire named also by the Platonizing philosophers the world of archetypes Here in a light which no one can enter God in triune majesty is sitting on his throne while the tones of harmony from the nine revolving heavens beneath ascend to him like a hymn of glory from the universe to its Creator Next in order below the Empyrean is the heaven of crystal or the sphere of the first movable primum mobile Beneath this revolves the heaven of fixed stars which formed from the most subtle elements in the universe are devoid of weight If now an angel were imagined to descend from this heaven straight to earth the centre where the coarsest particles of creation are collected he would still sink through seven vaulted spaces which form the planetary world In the first of these remaining heavens is found the planet Saturn in the second Jupiter in the third Mars to the fourth and middle heaven belongs the Sun queen of the planets while in the remaining three are the paths of Venus Mercury and finally the moon measuring time with its waning and increasing disk Beneath this heaven of the moon is the enveloping atmosphere of the earth and earth itself with its lands and seas The Magic of the Middle Ages Viktor Rydberg, 1879 The Magic of the Middle Ages (Classic Reprint) Viktor Rydberg, 2017-12-20
