Machines De Tinguely:

"Nouveau R?isme, 1960s France, and the Neo-avant-garde " Jill Carrick, 2017-07-05 Jill Carrick's Nouveau R?isme 1960s France and the Neo avant garde provides the first in depth historical analysis of the New Realism movement and the critical and theoretical debates it engaged. This text makes available a new corpus of material: the rich historical and theoretical analysis as well as the fascinating photographic documentation of artists and works from one of the most significant French art movements of the post World War II period whose literature has up to now been dominated by the terms of its founder Pierre Restany. The illustrations and surprising contextual material, many of which have been unearthed by the author's archival research, document artwork, artists' collaborations, and ephemeral events.

Art History after Deleuze and Guattari Sjoerd van Tuinen, Stephen Zepke, 2017-11-14 At the crossroads of philosophy, artistic practice, and art history. Though Gilles Deleuze and Felix Guattari were not strictly art historians, they reinvigorated ontological and formal approaches to art and simultaneously borrowed art historical concepts for their own philosophical work. They were dedicated modernists inspired by the German school of expressionist art historians such as Riegl, Wölfflin, and Worringer, and the great modernist art critics such as Rosenberg, Steinberg, Greenberg, and Fried. The work of Deleuze and Guattari on mannerism and Baroque art has led to new approaches to these artistic periods, and their radical transdisciplinarity has influenced contemporary art like no other philosophy before it. Their work therefore raises important methodological questions on the differences and relations among philosophy, artistic practice, and art history. In Art History after Deleuze and Guattari, international scholars from all three fields explore what a Deleuzo-Guattarian art history could be today.

Art Machines, Machine Art Katharina Dohm, Heinz Stahlhut, 2007. What happens when machines produce art?

France and the Visual Arts Since 1945 Catherine Dossin, 2019-01-01. Taking on the myth of France's creative exhaustion following World War II, this collection of essays brings together an international team of scholars whose research offers English readers a rich and complex overview of the place of France and French artists in the visual arts since 1945. Addressing a wide range of artistic practices spanning over seven decades and using different methodologies, their contributions cover ground charted and unknown. They introduce greater depth and specificity to familiar artists and movements such as Lettrism Situationist International or Nouveau Réalisme while bringing to the fore lesser known artists and groups including GRAPUS the Sociological Art Collective and Nicolas Schffer Collectively they stress the political dimensions and social ambitions of the art produced in France at the time deconstruct the traditional geography of the French art world and highlight the multiculturalism of the French art scene that resulted from its colonial past and the constant flux of artistic travels and migrations Ultimately the book contributes to a story of postwar art in which France can be inscribed not as a main or sub chapter but rather as a vector in the wider constellation of modern and contemporary art
