Bradford, Olney, Martha, MacDonald, Leigh, 2004 Adapted by Leigh MacDonald at University of Western Ontario each chapter in this guide begins with an overview and is followed by a set of matching exercises and multiple choice questions under Basic Definitions. These are followed by two sets of exercises: Manipulation of Concepts and Models and Applying the Concepts and Models. This is followed by some problems for Explaining the Real World and a set of questions under the heading Possibilities to Ponder. Finally, solutions are provided for all exercises and problems. The Keynes Solution Paul Davidson, 2009-09 Here Davidson challenges the 30 year dominance of the free market system over Keynesianism. He shows how the basic foundation of the Chicago School underlying Greenspan's policy decisions led to errors that propelled America into the worst economic crisis since the Great Depression.

The Foundations of a Democratic Economy Robert Henman, 2025-11-03 The relationship between economic theory and political policy is currently undermined by a lack of science in establishment economics. This book outlines some of the problems with establishment economics and how an adequate science of economics would provide a foundation supporting democracy. It goes further by addressing the problems with education that inhibit the development of humanity for zones of enquiry such as economics, politics and political careers. This is followed by solutions to the problems in education as well as a method of science designed to implement a control of human meaning in education generally and subsequently in economics. The author draws on the thought of Bernard Lonergan, a Canadian philosopher, to develop the positions on economics and education expressed in this book. This book would function well as an Introduction to political science as well as discourse on political and economic theory in the 21st century. It will also aid the average reader in understanding the geopolitical and economic turmoil of the 21st century.

Rational Expectations Models with a Continuum of Convergent Solutions Michael Mussa, 1984. This paper examines five examples of rational expectations models with a continuum of convergent solutions and demonstrates serious difficulties in the economic interpretation of these solutions. The five examples are: 1. a model of optimal capital accumulation with a negative rate of time preference; 2. Taylor's 1977 linear rational expectations model of macroeconomic equilibrium; 3. Calvo's 1984 model of contract setting and price dynamics; 4. Obstfeld's 1984 equilibrium model of monetary dynamics with individual optimizing agents; and 5. Calvo's 1978 life cycle model of savings and asset valuation. In every case when these models yield a continuum of convergent infinite horizon solutions, these solutions fail to exhibit economically appropriate forward-looking dependence of the endogenous variables on the paths of the exogenous forcing variables, a difficulty that does not arise under the circumstances where these models yield unique convergent infinite horizon solutions. Further, the three models that have natural finite horizon versions either lack finite horizon solutions or have solutions that do not converge to any of the infinite horizon solutions. Again, this difficulty arises only under the circumstances where these models have a continuum of infinite horizon solutions.

A Solution to Two Paradoxes of International Capital Flows

Jiandong Ju, Shang-Jin Wei, 2006 International capital flows from rich to poor countries can be regarded as either too low the Lucas paradox in a one sector model or too high when compared with the logic of factor price equalization in a two sector model To resolve the paradoxes we introduce a non neoclassical model which features financial contracts and firm heterogeneity In our model free patterns of gross capital flow emerge as a function of the quality of the financial system and the level of protection for property rights i e the risk of expropriation A poor country with an inefficient financial system but a low expropriation risk may simultaneously experience an outflow of financial capital but an inflow of foreign direct investment FDI resulting in a small net flow
