Madras On Rainy Days A Novel:

Madras on Rainy Days Samina Ali, 2004 Layla is torn among clashing identities dutiful Muslim daughter and free independent American woman When she is nineteen her parents inform Layla that a marriage has been arranged for her to an Indian man she doesn't know A stunned Layla submits reluctantly but not before she commits a dangerous final act of defiance In the heat and noise of Hyderabad as her wedding looms her behavior becomes more and more erratic Her mother fearing demonic possession takes Layla to a Muslim faith healer an alim hoping to exorcise all traces of rebellion To Layla's surprise the ancient and elaborate wedding rituals her groom's physical beauty and the unexpectedly warm welcome of her new family fill her with a sense of belonging she has never known before But her honeymoon in Madras soon reveals the full horror of the devil's bargain she has struck Set against the backdrop of the ancient walled city of Hyderabad and mounting Hindu Muslim tensions Madras on Rainy Days lyrically evokes the complexities of life behind the chador A gorgeously written novel by an original new voice in international fiction

Representation and Resistance Jaspal Kaur Singh, 2008 This book focuses on the work of Western educated African and Indian women writers resisting gender identity constructions at various points in history Author Jaspal Singh examines colonial and national gender identity constructions in female authored texts at home and the continued deployment of and resistance to gender identity impositions in various spaces Hoping to generate a greater understanding of and appreciation for the contributions of these diasporic women writers within postcolonial literature and analysis Singh contextualises their work within social political and cultural conditions Her study aids the empowerment of Indian and African women writers as important players in the emerging field of postcolonial studies In particular she argues for the importance of inclusion of texts from women of different classes religions and castes both in the developed and the under developed world Singh's analysis makes reference to texts by Indian and African women in India the West and in other Third World spaces with large Indian communities namely Africa and Burma

Muffled Voices in the Zenana and Beyond Sabreen Ahmed, 2025-08-08 This book explores subaltern subjecthood resistance and sexual agency in the works of Muslim women writers from India Pakistan and Bangladesh since the early 20th century Locating the Muslim woman in the fiction of these countries from a sub continental locus it incorporates concepts of race diaspora and postcolonial feminism in its reading of selected texts along with precepts of Islamic feminist hermeneutics in the South Asian context It rejects the homogenization of sub continental Muslim women as a monolithic victim subject and focuses on the multiplicity of voices that emerge from their writing both in the colonial and the postcolonial contexts The volume will be of great interest to scholars and researchers of literature gender studies cultural studies and South Asian studies

The Greenwood Encyclopedia of Asian American Literature Guiyou Huang, 2008-12-30 Asian American literature dates back to the close of the 19th century and during the years following World War II it significantly expanded in volume and diversity Monumental in scope this encyclopedia surveys Asian American literature from its origins through 2007 Included are more than 270 alphabetically arranged entries on writers major works significant historical events and important terms and concepts Thus the encyclopedia gives special attention to the historical social cultural and legal contexts surrounding Asian American literature and central to the Asian American experience Each entry is written by an expert contributor and cites works for further reading and the encyclopedia closes with a selected general bibliography of essential print and electronic resources While literature students will value this encyclopedia as a guide to writings by Asian Americans the encyclopedia also supports the social studies curriculum by helping students use literature to learn about Asian American history and culture as it pertains to writers from a host of Asian ethnic and cultural backgrounds including Afghans Chinese Japanese Koreans Filipinos Iranians Indians Vietnamese Hawaiians and other Asian Pacific Islanders The encyclopedia supports the literature curriculum by helping students learn more about Asian American literature In addition it supports the social studies curriculum by helping students learn about the Asian American historical and cultural experience
