Leading marines study guide 8. USMC Organizational Structure Questions and Answers

MARINE AIR-GROUND TASK FORCE (MAGTF) - answer The Marine air-ground task force (MAGTF) is the Marine Corps' principal organization for all missions across the range of military operations, composed of forces task- organized under a single commander capable of responding rapidly to a contingency anywhere in the world.

The types of forces in the MAGTF are functionally grouped into four core elements detailed to the right.

The four core elements are categories of forces, not formal commands.

COMMAND ELEMENT (CE) - answerThe headquarters is the core element of a MAGTF. The command element is composed of the commander, general or executive and special staff sections, headquarters section, and requisite communications support, intelligence, and reconnaissance forces necessary to accomplish the mission. The command element provides command and control, intelligence, and other support essential for effective planning and execution of operations by the other elements of the MAGTF. The command element varies in size and composition.

AVIATION COMBAT ELEMENT (ACE) - answerThe aviation combat element provides all or a portion of the six functions of Marine aviation necessary to accomplish the MAGTF's mission. These functions are:

- Anti-air warfare
- Offensive air support
- Assault support
- Electronic warfare
- Air reconnaissance
- Control of aircraft and missiles

The aviation combat element is usually composed of an aviation unit headquarters and various other aviation units or their detachments. It can vary in size from a small aviation detachment of specifically required aircraft to one or more Marine aircraft wings.

GROUND COMBAT ELEMENT (GCE) - answerIt is usually constructed around an infantry organization but can vary in size from a small ground unit of any type to one or more Marine divisions that can be independently maneuvered under the direction of the MAGTF commander. It includes appropriate ground combat and combat support forces,

The Chesty Puller Paragon: Leadership Dogma Or Model Doctrine? Major Mickey L. Quintrall USAF,2015-11-06 In this study I examine whether or not the United States Marine Corps senior warrior leaders should continue to use heroic warriors from the 1942 52 era as contemporary paragons of tactical leadership Additionally I compare the Marine tactical leadership models between 1942 52 and their relevance within the cultivated and refocused leadership doctrine of today s Marine Corps Then I examine whether or not there is a gap created using an earlier era s tactical leadership example to model contemporary tactical battlefield leadership The Marine Corps tactical leadership criteria and what the Corps expected of its commanders during World War II and the Korean War is the starting point There was not much written leadership guidance then but there was accepted leadership doctrine nonetheless Today several United States Marines are recognized as setting the contemporary paragon for the ideal tactical battlefield leader Among them is World War II and Korean War Marine Lewis Chesty Burwell Puller Chesty Puller not only set a courageous combat example he trained his men hard respected his men's fearlessness and worked hard to build unit comradeship Service parochialism and cultural turmoil through the Vietnam War set the stage for a rocky period in the history of the Corps leading up to the Commandant's re focus on a new Marine followership leadership ethos The Marine Corps recent efforts to Transform their Marines into a new breed is an attempt to transform leadership dogma to leadership followership doctrine His fresh approach is thought to better inculcate the Marine culture with loyalty and commitment to the Corps similar to what was experienced within World War II Marine Corps The thrust of the monograph pursues the question Does Chesty Puller provide the right contemporary leadership example or does he perpetuate dogma      The Marine Officer's Guide Kenneth W. Estes, 2008 The Marine Officer's Guide 7th Edition describes in detail the Marine Corps as a military institution of the United States and in so doing delineates the characteristics of the men and women who constitute the Corps The Guide supplements but does not supplant official regulations and instructions It can help an officer to acquire quickly a stockpile of information but it does not relieve the officer of his or her obligation to know the published regulations that govern our Corps I have endeavored to provide sound advice and up to date information on professional matters of note to the Marine officer I have described customs and usages that are current and not at variance with the book I have also deleted some practices that have become anachronistic and persons in search of nostalgic material can refer to preceding editions for them Many a well worn copy sits ready at hand on the bookshelves of the officer corps and officers of all grades have grown accustomed to its reliability and utility This seventh edition reflects all the changes in the organization of the Corps fostered by the evolving military establishment of the United States A modern corps shaped in so many ways by the Great Pacific War of 1941 1945 now reflects the Gulf Conflicts and the passing of the era of superpower rivalry and the century of the world wars What remain remarkably unchanged however are the character of the Marine Corps and the keen pursuit of excellence in the profession of arms that its officer corps reflects
