Donald Trump The authors explore how truth is constructed along the lines of race social class and gender as filtered through the self referential characteristics of social media in particular The authors assert that the US left has shown itself inadequate to the task of confronting right wing ideologies which have only intensified since the 2016 election resulting in increased mobilization of white supremacist and nationalist groups Whether underestimating Trump by downplaying the threat of his candidacy during the primaries trivializing the concerns of women and minorities as identity politics or rushing to prioritize the free speech rights of the far right left academics and the media have found themselves unable to use their traditional arsenal of evidence rational discourse and appeals to diversity of viewpoints The authors assert that political resistance to the right is not a matter of playful use of signs and symbols or discourse alone and has to be fought directly and in solidarity At this point it is clear that Trump and his supporters have not just deployed relativism as a form of strategy but have fully weaponized it against their perceived enemies women immigrants minorities LGBTQ people along with educational scientific and journalistic institutions It is hoped that this in depth critical dissection of truth in the current political reality will assist in the project of resistance Contributors are Faith Agostinone Wilson Mike Cole Jeremy T Godwin Jones Irwin Austin Pickup Daniel Ian Rubin and Eric C Sheffield Arts-Based Research Methods in Writing Studies Kate
