Men Forced To Become Women:

American Dream, American Nightmare Kathryn Hume, 2022-08-15 In this celebration of contemporary American fiction Kathryn Hume explores how estrangement from America has shaped the fiction of a literary generation which she calls the Generation of the Lost Dream In breaking down the divisions among standard categories of race religion ethnicity and gender Hume identifies shared core concerns values and techniques among seemingly disparate and unconnected writers including T Coraghessan Boyle Ralph Ellison Russell Banks Gloria Naylor Tim O'Brien Maxine Hong Kingston Walker Percy N Scott Momaday John Updike Toni Morrison William Kennedy Julia Alvarez Thomas Pynchon Leslie Marmon Silko and Don DeLillo Hume explores fictional treatments of the slippage in the immigrant experience between America's promise and its reality She exposes the political link between contemporary stories of lost innocence and liberalism's inadequacies She also invites us to look at the literary challenge to scientific materialism in various searches for a spiritual dimension in life The expansive future promised by the American Dream has been replaced Hume finds by a sense of tarnished morality and a melancholy loss of faith in America's exceptionalism American Dream American Nightmare examines the differing critiques of America embedded in nearly a hundred novels and points to the source for recovery that appeals to many of the authors

New media and development of gender roles law social and economic perspective This theme was raised as an effort to observe the development of new technology that has greatly affected people's lives Formerly to seek information people can get it through conventional radio media newspapers and television But now only use the smartphone we can get very much information that can be obtained by accessing the online media portal or sharing and socializing through social media For decades it has been stated that the media has the power to shape public opinion Media not only can form a worldview of society but also able to create awareness and individual belief in reality a reality that has been defined by the media Media has a powerful and direct effect to the audience market Including how then the media formed an opinion in the community about gender roles through the content provided by the new media Of course it will be interesting to study media related to the law social and economic perspective Chains of Being Ross P. Cameron, 2022-03-10 In Chains of Being Ross P

Cameron argues for both Metaphysical Infitism the view that there can be infinitely descending chains of ontological dependence or grounding with no bottom level of fundamental things or facts and Metaphysical Holism the view that there can be circles of ontological dependence or grounding Cameron argues against the widespread orthodoxy of Metaphysical Foundationalism that everything in reality is ultimately accounted for by a base class of fundamental phenomena In doing so he makes the case against another widespread orthodoxy that relations like grounding and ontological dependence are explanatory relations Cameron provides an alternative account of metaphysical explanation that does not tie explanation to determination relations like grounding and ontological dependence and he shows how explanation works in infinitist and holistic metaphysics Embracing the possibility of infinite regress and circularity can be theoretically fruitful as is shown by applying it to a number of cases across a wide range of philosophical areas including non well founded set theory mathematical structuralism the metaphysics of persons the metaphysics of gender and sexuality the semantic paradoxes and others In the course of exploring these applications Cameron defends distinctive views concerning when an infinite regress is vicious the nature of truth non classical logic and dialetheism social construction and more
