Performance of Africa's International Courts James Thuo Gathii, 2020-11-26 The performance of international courts has traditionally been judged against criteria of compliance and effectiveness Whilst these are clearly desirable objectives for litigants before Africa's international courts this book shows that we must look beyond these criteria to fully appreciate the impact of these courts This book shows how litigants use their participation in international litigation to achieve other objectives to amplify political disputes with their governments to build their movement to educate the public about their cause and to challenge the status quo Chapters in this collection show how these courts act as coordination points for opposition political parties to name and shame dominant parties for violation of their organizational rights Others demonstrate how Africa's international courts serve as transitional justice mechanisms in which truth telling about ongoing conflict and authoritarian governance receives significant attention This attention serves as a platform to galvanize resistance against continued authoritarian rule especially from outside the conflict countries Ultimately the book shows that these courts must be judged against new and broader criteria and understood as increasingly important venues for waging political social environmental and legal struggles

Big Data of Complex Networks Matthias Dehmer, Frank Emmert-Streib, Stefan Pickl, Andreas Holzinger, 2016-08-19 Big Data of Complex Networks presents and explains the methods from the study of big data that can be used in analysing massive structural data sets including both very large networks and sets of graphs As well as applying statistical analysis techniques like sampling and bootstrapping in an interdisciplinary manner to produce novel techniques for analyzing massive amounts of data this book also explores the possibilities offered by the special aspects such as computer memory in investigating large sets of complex networks Intended for computer scientists statisticians and mathematicians interested in the big data and networks Big Data of Complex Networks is also a valuable tool for researchers in the fields of visualization data analysis computer vision and bioinformatics Key features Provides a complete discussion of both the hardware and software used to organize big data Describes a wide range of useful applications for managing big data and resultant data sets Maintains a firm focus on massive data and large networks Unveils innovative techniques to help readers handle big data Matthias Dehmer received his PhD in computer science from the Darmstadt University of Technology Germany Currently he is Professor at UMIT The Health and Life Sciences University Austria and the Universit t der Bundeswehr M nchen His research interests are in graph theory data science complex networks complexity statistics and information theory Frank Emmert Streib received his PhD in theoretical physics from the University of Bremen and is currently Associate professor at Tampere University of Technology Finland His research interests are in the field of computational biology machine learning and network medicine Stefan Pickl holds a PhD in mathematics from the Darmstadt University of Technology and is currently a Professor at Bundeswehr Universit t M nchen His research interests are in operations research systems biology graph theory and discrete optimization Andreas Holzinger received his PhD in cognitive science from Graz University and his habilitation second PhD in computer science from Graz University of Technology He is head of the Holzinger Group HCI KDD at the Medical University Graz and Visiting Professor for Machine Learning in Health Informatics Vienna University of Technology

A History of Scientific Journals Aileen Fyfe, Noah Moxham, Julie McDougall-Waters, Camilla Mørk Røstvik, 2022-10-03 Modern scientific research has changed so much since Isaac Newton s day it is more professional collaborative and international with more complicated equipment and a more diverse community of researchers Yet the use of scientific journals to report share and store results is a thread that runs through the history of science from Newton s day to ours Scientific journals are now central to academic research and careers Their editorial and peer review processes act as a check on new claims and findings and researchers build their careers on the list of journal articles they have published The journal that reported Newton s optical experiments still exists First published in 1665 and now fully digital the Philosophical Transactions has carried papers by Charles Darwin Dorothy Hodgkin and Stephen Hawking It is now one of eleven journals published by the Royal Society of London Unrivalled insights from the Royal Society's comprehensive archives have enabled the authors to investigate more than 350 years of scientific journal publishing. The editorial management, business practices and financial difficulties of the Philosophical Transactions and its sibling Proceedings reveal the meaning and purpose of journals in a changing scientific community. At a time when we are surrounded by calls to reform the academic publishing system, it has never been more urgent that we understand its history.

Hello World Hannah Fry, 2018-09-18 Shortlisted for the 2018 Baillie Gifford Prize and the 2018 Royal Society Investment Science Book Prize. A beautifully accessible guide. One of the best books yet written on data and algorithms. Times UK. If you were accused of a crime, who would you rather decide your sentence: a mathematically consistent algorithm incapable of empathy or a compassionate human judge prone to bias and error? What if you want to buy a driverless car and must choose between one programmed to save as many lives as possible and another that prioritizes the lives of its own passengers? And would you agree to share your family's full medical history if you were told that it would help researchers find a cure for cancer? These are just some of the dilemmas that we are beginning to face as we approach the age of the algorithm when it feels as if the machines reign supreme. Already these lines of code are telling us what to watch, where to go, whom to date and even whom to send to jail. But as we rely on algorithms to automate big important decisions in crime, justice, healthcare, transportation and money, they raise questions about what we want our world to look like. What matters most? Helping doctors with diagnosis or preserving privacy? Protecting victims of crime or preventing innocent people being falsely accused? Hello World takes us on a tour through the good, the bad and the downright ugly of the algorithms that surround us on a daily basis. Mathematician Hannah Fry reveals their inner workings, showing us how algorithms are written and implemented and demonstrates the ways in which human bias can literally be written into the code. By weaving in relatable real-world stories with accessible explanations of the underlying mathematics that power algorithms, Hello World helps us to determine their power, expose their limitations and examine whether they really are an improvement on the human systems they replace.

Advances and Applications of DSMT for Information Fusion. Collected Works, Volume 5

Florentin Smarandache, Jean Dezert, Albena Tchamova, This fifth volume on Advances and Applications of DSMT for Information Fusion collects theoretical and applied contributions of researchers working in different fields of applications and in mathematics and is available in open access. The collected contributions of this volume have either been published or presented after disseminating the fourth volume in 2015 available at fs.unm.edu/DSMTbook4.pdf or www.onera.fr/sites/default/files/2015-DSMT-Book4.pdf in international conferences, seminars, workshops and journals or they are new. The contributions of each part of this volume are chronologically ordered. First Part of this book presents some theoretical advances on DSMT dealing mainly with modified Proportional Conflict Redistribution Rules, PCR of combination with degree of intersection coarsening techniques, interval calculus for PCR thanks to set inversion via interval analysis, SIVIA, rough set classifiers, canonical decomposition of dichotomous belief functions, fast PCR fusion, fast inter-criteria analysis with PCR and improved PCR5 and PCR6 rules preserving the quasi neutrality of quasi vacuous belief assignment in the fusion of sources of evidence with their Matlab codes Because more applications of DSMT have emerged in the past years since the apparition of the fourth book of DSMT in 2015 the second part of this volume is about selected applications of DSMT mainly in building change detection object recognition quality of data association in tracking perception in robotics risk assessment for torrent protection and multi criteria decision making multi modal image fusion coarsening techniques recommender system levee characterization and assessment human heading perception trust assessment robotics biometrics failure detection GPS systems inter criteria analysis group decision human activity recognition storm prediction data association for autonomous vehicles identi cation of maritime vessels fusion of support vector machines SVM Silx Furtif RUST code library for information fusion including PCR rules and network for ship classi cation Finally the third part presents interesting contributions related to belief functions in general published or presented along the years since 2015 These contributions are related with decision making under uncertainty belief approximations probability transformations new distances between belief functions non classical multi criteria decision making problems with belief functions generalization of Bayes theorem image processing data association entropy and cross entropy measures fuzzy evidence numbers negator of belief mass human activity recognition information fusion for breast cancer therapy imbalanced data classi cation and hybrid techniques mixing deep learning with belief functions as well
