"Challenger, go with throttle up."

The countdown and clip for launch came from the Kennedy Space Center at Cape Canaveral, Florida on January 28, 1986.

The Challenger space shuttle mission gained an immense amount of media as Christa McAuliffe, a 37-year old high school social studies teacher was on board. McAuliffe was the first civilian to go through months of training as she was to become the first ordinary American citizen to travel into space.

The space shuttle Challenger was set to originally launch on January 22, 1986, however it was delayed for six days due to weather and technical problems. The unusual bitter cold was sweeping through Florida at the time, delaying the launch. Engineers warned that certain components could fail at temperatures so low. Even with the warning and as thick ice covered the launch pad, the mission was still a go in the early morning hours of January 28.

At 12:39 a.m., the space shuttle Challenger lifted off. Seventy-three seconds later, 14,000 meters into the air, Challenger exploded. Millions of people literally stared with mouths open. The launch aired live on television and hundreds of people on the ground at Cape Canaveral, including family and friends of the seven astronauts on board, were shocked as they stared at the shuttle now on flames and in a mass of
