Le Choix De Liumll

John Grand-Carteret

Le Choix De Liumll:

Sésostris 3 Palais des Beaux Arts, Lille, Le pharaon Sésostris III est l'un des rois les plus emblématiques de l'Égypte antique. Au cœur du Moyen Empire son règne vers 1872-1854 av. J.-C. marque un tournant dans l'histoire de l'Égypte ancienne. Initiateur de grandes formes politiques et administratives, ce souverain conquiert durant son règne la Nubie, le Soudan actuel où il fait construire un réseau de forteresses qui limite les premières frontières de son royaume et tablit des relations commerciales et diplomatiques intenses avec ses voisins orientaux actuels Chypre, Liban, Turquie, Syrie, Israël, Palestine. Ses expéditions militaires et la mise en place d'une administration très développée lui permettent d'asseoir son pouvoir face aux menaces extérieures mais aussi intérieures que représentaient les notables locaux. L'art égyptien est réinventé en profondeur. Ce changement est incarné dans l'art par la statuaire, les portraits nigmatiques du pharaon qui nous sont parvenus rompent avec les canons traditionnels et le montrent tantôt sous des traits sévères, symboles de sagesse, tantôt sous les traits d'un jeune homme. Les autres productions artistiques illustrent une prospérité retrouvée et une vitalité manifeste des échanges culturels avec les royaumes voisins.

The Pride of Place Stéphane Gerson, 2018-08-06 Nineteenth century France grew fascinated with the local past. Thousands of citizens embraced local archaeology, penned historical vignettes and monographs, staged historical pageants, and created museums and pantheons of celebrities. Stéphane Gerson's rich, elegantly written and timely book provides the first cultural and political history of what contemporaries called the cult of local memories: an unprecedented effort to resuscitate the past, instill affection for one's locality, and hence create a sense of place. A wide range of archival and printed sources, some of them untapped until now, inform the author's engaging portrait of a little-known realm of Parisian entrepreneurs and middling provincials, of obscure historians and intellectual luminaries. Arguing that the local and modernity were interlaced rather than inimical between the 1820s and 1890s, Gerson explores the diverse uses of local memories in modern France, from their theatricality and commercialization to their political and pedagogical applications. The Pride of Place shows that, contrary to our received ideas about French nationhood and centralism, the local buttressed the nation while seducing Parisians and local officials. The state cautiously supported the cult of local memories even as it sought to co-opt them and grappled with their cultural and political implications. The current enthusiasm for local memories, Gerson thus finds, is neither new nor a threat to Republican unity. More broadly, yet, this book illuminates the predicament of countries that like France are now caught between supranational forces and a revival of local sentiments.
