Le droit du financement participatif (Crowdfunding) Jean Lefebvre, 2021-06-07

Le financement participatif ou crowdfunding est un mode de financement utilisé par des porteurs de projet qui sollicitent des fonds auprès d'investisseurs via un intermédiaire sur Internet. Très diversifié, il permet de financer une entreprise commerciale comme un projet humanitaire, sportif, éducatif, artistique. Ce faisant, il apparaît comme une alternative au financement des entreprises et des projets. L'accès au financement est un enjeu crucial pour l'entreprise. Les relais classiques de financement (banques, capital-risque) font défaut maintes sociétés qui ne présentent pas de solidité financière suffisante. La diversité des projets, des modes de financement, priment sur le capital et l'utilisation d'Internet posent la question de sa compatibilité avec un environnement juridique complexe et contraignant. Pour répondre, l'auteur aborde d'une part l'espace créé par l'ordonnance du 30 mai 2014 pour encadrer le crowdfunding. D'autre part, l'auteur suggère des stratégies juridiques alternatives pour l'utiliser dans un cadre sécurisé. Cet ouvrage intègre la Loi PACTE du 22 mai 2019, le Règlement communautaire prospectus du 14 juin 2017 et l'ordonnance du 21 octobre 2019.

Cultural Crowdfunding Vincent Rouzé, 2019-11-29

This new book analyses the strategies, usages and wider implications of crowdsourcing and crowdfunding platforms in the culture and communication industries that are reshaping economic, organizational and social logics. Platforms are the object of considerable hype with a growing global presence. Relying on individual contributions coordinated by social media to finance cultural production and carry out promotional tasks is a significant shift, especially when supported by morphing public policies supposedly enhancing cultural diversity and accessibility. The aim of this book is to propose a critical analysis of these phenomena by questioning what follows from decisions to outsource modes of creation and funding to consumers. Drawing on research carried out within the Collab programme backed by the French National Research Agency, the book considers how platforms are used to organize cultural labour and/or to control usages following a logic of suggestion rather than overt injunction. Four key areas are considered: the history of crowdfunding as a system whose interests crowdfunding may serve; the implications for digital labour; and lastly, crowdfunding's interface with globalization and contemporary capitalism. The book concludes with an assessment of claims that crowdfunding can democratize culture.
