Le Dimanche De Bouvines Juillet:

Le Dimanche de Bouvines, 27 Juillet 1214 Georges Duby, 1980 , A Cumulative Bibliography of Medieval Military History and Technology Kelly DeVries, 2001-11-01 There is perhaps no other more lively area for study in medieval history than medieval military history with its attendant and complementary field the history of medieval military technology In the past twenty years it seems that more major scholarly inroads have been made in this field than in any other historical genre of medieval studies or chronological period of military history What this has meant is that it is now more difficult to keep up with all of the trends and sources in the field than ever before Hence the need for a reference work which covers what has previously been written and which in turn can assist the scholar both the more experienced academic and the beginner to improve his or her work in medieval military history or the history of medieval military technology Utilizing library catalogues bibliographies and footnotes this bibliography has compiled the most complete list of secondary references to works in medieval military history and the history of military technology It keeps fairly strictly to a geography which centers on conventional medieval boundaries Europe Byzantium and the Middle East However the chronology does differ from the conventional medieval dates Because of its influence on the early Middle Ages references to Late Antiquity especially to the military history and technology of the third and fourth century Roman Empire have been included For the opposite reason the influence of the Middle Ages on the sixteenth and early seventeenth centuries references to military history and technology up to 1648 have been included as well This is especially important in the study of the Ottoman Turkish Wars and Arms and Armor where the end of the fifteenth century as a chronological terminus makes little sense

Goss, Christine Verzar Bornstein, Michigan Consortium for Medieval and Early Modern Studies, University of Michigan. Medieval and Renaissance Collegium, Medieval Institute (Kalamazoo, Mich.), 1986 Satire in the Songs of Renart Le Nouvel John Dickinson Haines, 2010 This book places the songs of Renart le nouvel in the broader context of this late medieval romance As argued here Renart le nouvel was written in two different stages its first book around 1260 and its second around 1300 The first book presents situations and animals that stand for key events and characters in 1250s Flanders mostly pertaining to the famous quarrel of the Avesnes and Dampierre families The second book ushers in a more apocalyptic mood that reflects the deteriorating political situation in Flanders in the final decades of the thirteenth century The songs of Renart le nouvel give voice both to a mounting apocalyptic mood and to a related cynicism towards courtly love As the embodiment of duplicity Renart the fox sings an especially cynical song one that is ultimately passed on to an animal that makes a brief appearance in our romance but is soon destined for fame Fauvel the ass In particular the emerging genre of the motet expresses the duplicitous and satirical spirits of the fox and the ass French text The Journal of Medieval and Early Modern Studies, 1997 Revue historique, 1915 Bulletin de la Société de géographie de Lille (Lille, Roubaix, Tourcoing) Société de géographie de Lille, 1893
