of protective coatings Seawater related issues associated with cathodic protection such as calcareous deposit formation hydrogen formation and fouling are discussed With respect to protective coatings the book considers for the first time complete loading scenarios including corrosive loads mechanical loads and special loads and covers a wide range of coating materials Problems associated with fouling and bacterial induced corrosion are extensively reviewed The book closes with a chapter on recent developments in maintenance strategies inspection techniques and repair technologies The book will be of special interest to materials scientists materials developers corrosion engineers maintenance engineers civil engineers steel work designers mechanical engineers marine engineers chemists and coating specialists Offshore wind power is an emerging renewable technology and a key factor for a cleaner environment Offshore wind power structures are situated in a demanding and challenging marine environment The structures are loaded in a complex way including mechanical loads and corrosive loads Corrosion is one of the major limiting factors to the reliability and performance of the technology Maintenance and repair of corrosion protection systems are particularly laborious and costly Explores the literature between 1950 and 2020 and contains over 2000 references Offers the most complete monograph on the issue Covers all aspects of corrosion protection in detail including coatings cathodic protection corrosion allowance constructive design as well as maintenance and repair Delivers the most complete review on corrosion of metals in marine offshore environments Focuses on all aspects of offshore wind power structures namely foundations towers internal sections connection flanges and transformation platforms

Technical Books in Print ,1974 Technical Abstract Bulletin ,1981 Vegetation science applications for rangeland analysis and management P.T. Tueller,2012-12-06 Natural grasslands pastures and meadows are among the vegetation types most frequently investigated with phytosociological methods This was one of the reasons why volume 13 Application of vegetation science to grassland husbandry and agriculture edited by W Krause appeared as one of the first volumes of this handbook It appeared under the chief editorship of Prof R Tiixen and in his time main emphasis of the handbook was placed on Ziirich Montpellier methods and the European vegetation When we redesigned the handbook we felt the need to include other methods and aims of grassland analyses as well as a more global coverage of grasslands Especially the natural dry and semidry areas of the world needed to be covered was very fortunate in getting Prof Tueller of the University of Reno I Nevada as an editor for this volume He and the colleagues he motivated to compile volume 14 on Application of vegetation science to rangeland analysis and management have created a truly global coverage of the topics interesting for vegetation analyses in natural grasslands Since volume 13 covered the problems of anthropogenically created grasslands this topic was not expressly treated in order to avoid duplication For the same reason no specific attempt was made to get more papers from Europe and the temperate forest region in general The cooperation with Dr Tueller has been very rewarding for me
