Wilson, 2014-07-18 Women's Utopian and Dystopian Fiction explores the genres of utopian and dystopian recent fiction It is about how this literature of both imagined perfection and disaster creates new worlds and critiques gender roles traditions and values Essays range in subject matter from Charlotte Perkins Gilman P D James Joanna Russ and Marge Piercy to Ursula Le Guin Fay Weldon and Toni Morrison Two of the three sections focus on Doris Lessing and Margaret Atwood Examining especially the twentieth century including second wave feminism writers from Tunisia Turkey Italy Korea the US and England give both an historical and a global perspective Utopian and dystopian elements are explored in the Nobel Prize winning Doris Lessing's Memoirs of a Survivor the little known Mara and Dann and The Cleft and new perspectives are offered on Atwood s The Handmaid s Tale Law and the Humanities: Cultural Perspectives Chiara Battisti, Sidia Fiorato, 2019-12-02 This volume investigates interdisciplinary intersections between law and the humanities from the Renaissance to the present day It allows for fruitful encounters between different disciplines from literature to science from the visual arts to the post human from the postmodern novel s experimentation to most recent approaches towards the legal interpretation of literary texts This productive dialogue fosters original perspectives in the interpretation of and reflection upon identity justice power and human rights and values thus underlining the role of literature in the articulation of relevant cultural issues pertaining to Dystopias and Utopias on Earth and Beyond Douglas A. Vakoch, 2021-04-29 Caught as we are in a grave climate crisis that seems more irreversible with every passing year our literary portrayals of the future often feature the dystopian collapse of the world as we know it Science fiction explores how we got here while pointing toward a more hopeful path forward From an ecofeminist perspective a core cause of our current ecological catastrophe is the patriarchal domination of nature playing out in parallel with the oppression of women As an alternative to dystopian futures that seem increasingly inevitable ecofeminist science fiction helps us conjure utopias that promote environmental sustainability based on more egalitarian human relationships Dystopias and Utopias on Earth and Beyond Feminist Ecocriticism of Science Fiction explores the fictional worlds of such canonical novelists as Margaret Atwood Octavia Butler Ursula K Le Guin Doris Lessing and Joan Slonczewski as well as those of lesser known science fiction writers as they collectively probe humanity s greatest existential threats Contributors from five continents provide compelling analyses of far future dystopias on Earth that are all too easy to imagine becoming reality if humankind s current trajectory continues as well as provocative insights into science fiction utopias set on idyllic planets orbiting distant stars which offer liberatory alternatives that might someday be actualized in the real world By examining the links between the destruction of the environment and the domination of women Dystopias and Utopias on Earth and Beyond provides the tools to counteract those intertwined oppressions helping create a foundation for a truly habitable world

The Novel in Transition: Space, Identity, and the Politics of Transformation Selin Sencan, Barış Ağır, Gözde Pınar Bilginer, Mehmet Kerim Balkan, Sinem Çapar İleri, Yöntem Kılkış, Selenay Sıla Saldır, Berivan Ayık, 2025-03-19 In contemporary fiction shifting identities contested spaces and sociopolitical ruptures are central concerns reflecting the broader crises of migration ecological displacement posthumanism and gendered spatial politics The Novel in Transition examines these intersections of space identity and power offering critical insights into how novels engage with the changing landscapes of selfhood and spatiality Building on theoretical approaches in geocriticism feminist theory and postcolonial studies this volume explores how fiction constructs and deconstructs subjectivities within fluid geographies It traces the evolving narratives of transformation that define contemporary literature from nomadic resistance in dystopian landscapes to the contested terrains of diaspora and belonging By engaging with these pressing issues this book positions fiction as both a theoretical framework and a mode of empirical analysis illustrating its role in shaping new imaginaries of identity and space in an era of unprecedented global change
