Civic Engagement in Global Contexts Jim Bowman, Jennifer deWinter, 2021-12-01 This volume examines the role of writing rhetoric and literacy programs and approaches in the practice of civic engagement in global contexts Writing programs have experience in civic engagement and service learning projects in their local communities and their work is central to developing students literacy practices Further writing programs compel student writers to attend to audience needs and rhetorical exigencies as well as reflect on their own subject positions Thus they are particularly situated to partner with other units on college campuses engaged in global partnerships Civic Engagement in Global Contexts provides examples and evidence of the critical self reflection and iteration with community partners that make these projects important and valuable Throughout its thirteen chapters this collection provides practical pedagogical and administrative approaches for writing studies faculty engaging with global learning projects as well as nuanced insight into how to navigate contact zones from the planning stages of projects to the hard work of self reflection and change Partnerships and projects across national borders compel the field of rhetoric and composition to think through the ethics of writing studies program design and teaching practices Doing this difficult work can disrupt presumptive notions of ownership that faculty and administrators hold concerning the fields involved in these projects and can even lead to decentering rhetoric composition and other assumptions held by US based institutions of higher education Civic Engagement in Global Contexts will be useful to instructors advisors and project managers of students in faculty led project learning in overseas settings international service learning through foreign study programs and foreign study itself and to faculty members introducing civic engagement and community based learning projects with foreign students in overseas institutions Contributors Olga Aksakalova James Austin Maria de Lourdes Caudillo Zambrano Rebecca Charry Roje Patricia M Dyer Tara E Friedman Bruce Horner Kathryn Johnson Gindlesparger Adela C Licon Ian Mauer Joyce Meier Susan V Meyers Sadia Mir Stephen T Russell

Institutional Literacies Stuart A. Selber, 2020-09-04 Information technologies have become an integral part of writing and communication courses shaping the ways students and teachers think about and do their work But too often teachers and other educational stakeholders take a passive or simply reactive role in institutional approaches to technologies and this means they are missing out on the chance to make positive changes in their departments and on campus Institutional Literacies argues that writing and communication teachers and program directors should collaborate more closely and engage more deeply with IT staff as technology projects are planned implemented and expanded Teachers need to both analyze how their institutions approach information technologies and intervene in productive ways as active university citizens with relevant expertise To help them do so the book offers a three part heuristic reflecting the reality that academic IT units are complex and multilayered with historical spatial and textual dimensions It discusses six ways teachers can intervene in the academic IT work of their own institutions maintaining awareness using systems and services mediating for audiences participating as user advocates working as designers and partnering as researchers With these strategies in hand educators can be proactive in helping institutional IT approaches align with the professional values and practices of writing and communication programs

Warriors for Social Justice and Equality Linda J. Quintanilla, 2025-03-17 Warriors for Social Justice examines the contributions of Mexican American activists to the nation's democratic values by concentrating on the activism of Maria Jimenez 1950-2020 in Houston Texas Linda J Quintanilla tells the life story of this admired immigrant and human rights activist who not only fought racist discriminations such as segregation but also typified other Mexican American activists Quintanilla documents how Jimenez and other activists advanced social justice by promoting our nation's best virtues especially equality In 1971 when only 20 Jimenez already had a definition of what it meant for her to be an activist when I see a problem which I feel needs a solution then I go out to solve it Quintanilla describes her lifelong battle against injustice be it racist sexist or anti immigrant animus The Immigrant Workers Freedom Ride in 2003 only one of her many impressive achievements delighted her the most The experience introduced its participants undocumented immigrants to historic places and African American activists and descendants from the Civil Rights Movement The Freedom Ride Jimenez believed not only was educational but also inspired the immigrants in their long and difficult fight to gain legal status a true victory for social justice Quintanilla uses Critical Race Theory CRT which examines the relationship between race racism and power as the framework for studying Jimenez and Mexican American activism She describes the racial discrimination that the Mexican origin community experienced in Texas with a focus on Houston dating from the state's earliest years and continuing into the twenty first century The commonplace belief in the inferiority of the Mexican origin minority contributed for example to segregation substandard public schools and denial of the vote and jury duty Quintanilla also addresses the violence this community suffered from authorities and examines immigration laws in depth in order to provide a historical context to the current national debate on immigration
