Lefebvre For Architects Thinkers For Architects:

Lefebvre for Architects Nathaniel Coleman, 2014-12-05 While the work of Henri Lefebvre has become better known in the English speaking world since the 1991 translation of his 1974 masterpiece The Production of Space his influence on the actual production of architecture and the city has been less pronounced Although now widely read in schools of architecture planning and urban design Lefebvre's message for practice remains elusive inevitably so because the entry of his work into the Anglosphere has come with repression of the two most challenging aspects of his thinking romanticism and Utopia which simultaneously confront modernity while being progressive Contemporary discomfort with romanticism and Utopia arguably obstructs the shift of Lefebvre's thinking from being objects of theoretical interest into positions of actually influencing practices Attempting to understand and act upon architecture and the city with Lefebvre but without Utopia and romanticism risks muting the impact of his ideas Although Utopia may seem to have no place in the present Lefebvre reveals this as little more than a self serving affirmation that there is no alternative to social and political detachment Demanding the impossible may end in failure but as Lefebvre shows us doing so is the first step towards other possibilities To think with Lefebvre is to think about Utopia doing so makes contact with what is most enduring about his project for the city and its inhabitants and with what is most radical about it as well Lefebvre for Architects offers a concise account of the relevance of Henri Lefebvre's writing for the theory and practice of architecture planning and urban design This book is accessible for students and practitioners who wish to fully engage with the design possibilities offered by Lefebvre's philosophy The SAGE

Merleau-Ponty for Architects Jonathan Hale, 2016-07-01 The philosophy of Maurice Merleau-Ponty 1908-1961 has influenced the design work of architects as diverse as Steven Holl and Peter Zumthor as well as informing renowned schools of architectural theory notably those around Dalibor Vesely at Cambridge Kenneth Frampton David Leatherbarrow and Alberto Pérez Gómez in North America and Juhani Pallasmaa in Finland Merleau-Ponty suggested that the value of people's experience of the world gained through their immediate bodily engagement with it remains greater than the value of understanding gleaned through abstract mathematical scientific or technological systems This book summarizes what Merleau-Ponty's philosophy has to offer specifically for architects It locates architectural thinking in the context of his work

Negotiating Conflict in Lebanon Mohamad Hafeda,2019-08-22 Drawing on innovative research into sectarian political struggle in Beirut Mohamad Hafeda shows how boundaries in a divided city are much more than simple physical divisions and reveals the ways in which city dwellers both experience them and subvert them in unexpected ways Through research based on interviews documentation of various media representations such as maps visual imagery and gallery installations Negotiating Conflict in Lebanon exposes the methods through which sectarian narratives are constructed arguing for the need to question deconstruct and transform these constructions Hafeda expands upon the definition of bordering practice by considering artistic research as a critical spatial practice which allows self reflection and transformation of border positions This study offers an alternative view to the mainstream narratives of what is meant by a border and provides insights methods and lessons that may be applied to other cities around the world affected by conflict and political sectarian segregation Architecture of the Everyday Deborah Berke, Steven Harris, 1997-12 Essays on a vision of architecture that draws strength from its simplicity and use of common materials Journal of the Indian Institute of Architects Indian Institute of Architects, 1996 The Architect, 1872 Architect, 1872 The Architects' Journal, 2000-05 Kant for Architects Diane Morgan, 2017-09-11 This book introduces architects to a philosopher Immanuel Kant whose work was constantly informed by a concern for the world as an evolving whole According to Kant in this interconnected and dynamic world humans should act as mutually dependent and responsible subjects Given his future oriented and ethico politically concerned thinking Kant is a thinker who clearly speaks to architects This introduction demonstrates how his ideas bear pertinently and creatively upon the world in which we live now and for which we should care thoughtfully Kant grounded his enlightened vision of philosophy s mission using an architectural metaphor of the modest dwelling house Far from constructing speculative castles in the sky or vertiginous towers which reach to the heavens he tells us that his humble aim is rather to build a secure home for ourselves one which appropriately corresponds at once to the limited material resources available on our planet and to our need for firm and solid principles to live by This book also explores Kant s notions of cosmopolitics which attempts to think politics from a global perspective by taking into account the geographical fact that the earth is a sphere with limited land mass and natural resources Given the urgent topicality of sustainable development these Kantian texts are of particular interest for architects of today Students of architecture who are necessarily trained in negotiating between theory and practice gain much from considering Kant whose critical project also consisted of testing and exploring the viability of ideas so as to ascertain to what extent and crucially how ideas can have a constructive effect on the whole world and on us as active agents therein The Social (Re)Production of Architecture Doina Petrescu, Kim Trogal, 2017-07-14 The Social Re Production of Architecture brings the debates of the right to the city into today s context of ecological economic and social crises Building on the 1970s discussions about the production of space which French sociologist Henri Lefebvre considered a civic right the authors question who has the right to make space and explore the kinds of relations that are produced in the process In the emerging post capitalist era this book addresses urgent social and ecological imperatives for change and opens up questions around architecture s engagement with new forms of organization and practice The book asks what new kinds of social can architecture re produce and what kinds of politics values and actions are needed The book features 24 interdisciplinary essays written by leading theorists and practitioners including social thinkers economic theorists architects educators urban curators feminists artists and activists from different generations and global contexts The essays discuss the diverse global locations with work taking different and specific forms in these different contexts A cutting edge critical text which rethinks both practice and theory in the light of recent crises making it key reading for students academics and practitioners The Making of Place in the Global Society Milton Edward Tong, 1994 Architecture & Anthropology Clare
