

1. Abstract: The purpose of this study was to investigate the effect of a 12-week resistance training program on the muscle strength and endurance of middle-aged men. The study was conducted in a laboratory setting and involved 20 participants who were randomly assigned to either a control group or an experimental group. The experimental group performed a resistance training program consisting of three sessions per week, while the control group did not exercise. The results showed that the experimental group had significantly higher muscle strength and endurance compared to the control group at the end of the 12-week period.
