Concepts in Biology Eldon D. Enger, Frederick C. Ross, David B. Bailey, 2005 Concepts in Biology is a short student friendly text organized in a traditional manner It has very little botany and presents a human oriented approach to the animal unit Professors and students appreciate the low cost of this title and that it is written for students who are not biology majors

Evolution Nicholas H. Barton, 2007 Evolution is designed to serve as the primary text for undergraduate courses in evolution It differs from currently available alternatives in containing more molecular biology than is traditionally the case

Mind and Its Evolution Allan Paivio, 2014-01-14 This book updates the Dual Coding Theory of mind DCT a theory of modern human cognition consisting of separate but interconnected nonverbal and verbal systems Allan Paivio a leading scholar in cognitive psychology presents this masterwork as new findings in psychological research on memory thought language and other core areas have flourished as have pioneering developments in the cognitive neurosciences Mind and Its Evolution provides a thorough exploration into how these adaptive nonverbal and verbal systems might have evolved as well as a careful comparison of DCT with contrasting single code cognitive theories Divided into four parts this text begins with a general systematic theory of modern human cognition as the reference model for interpreting the cognitive abilities of evolutionary ancestors The first half of the book discusses mind as it is the second half addresses how it came to be that way Each half is subdivided into two parts defined by thematic chapters Mind and Its Evolution concludes with evidence based suggestions about nourishing mental growth through applications of DCT in education psychotherapy and health This volume will appeal to cognitive and evolutionary psychologists as well as students in the areas of memory language cognition and mind evolution specialists in psychology philosophy and other disciplines

Economic Growth And Development (Third Edition) Hendrik Van Den Berg, 2016-09-02 This textbook covers the full range of topics and issues normally included in a course on economic growth and development Both mainstream economic perspectives as well as the multi paradigmatic interdisciplinary and dynamic evolutionary perspectives from heterodox economics are detailed Economic development is viewed in terms of the long run well being of humanity social stability environmental sustainability and just distribution of economic gains not simply as the growth of GDP Furthermore this textbook explicitly recognizes the complexity of economic development by linking economic activity to our broader social and natural environments The textbook's unique feature is its focus on the natural environment Both the historical effects of economic development on the environment and the environmental constraints on future economic development are thoroughly discussed in two chapters on environmental issues and policies In fact because economic development is defined in terms of economic social and environmental sustainability the natural environment is included in discussions throughout the book The textbook is interdisciplinary knowledge from fields such as sociology psychology political science economic history and ecology is called on to enhance the economic analysis A thorough historical account of the development of the principal paradigms of economic development is also included and the important issues of institutional development and cultural change merit their own chapters Two chapters on technological change holistically focus on production technologies as well as the dynamic performance of entire economic social and ecological systems Also the important relationship between economic development and globalization is presented in three chapters on international trade international finance and investment and immigration from both orthodox and heterodox perspectives

Lignin Biodegradation: Microbiology, Chemistry, and Potential Applications T.K.

Kirk,2019-07-23 Lignin is a generic name for the complex aromatic polymers that are major components of vascular plant tissues Lignin is abundant in terms of weight it is probably second only to cellulose among renewable organic materials and in terms of energy content it might well be the single most abundant an international seminar on lignin biodegradation was organized and was held May 9 to 11 1978 at the U S Forest Products Laboratory in Madison Wisconsin This book records the proceedings of that seminar and is meant to provide a summary of research Each speaker author was asked to summarize his research including his latest unpublished results and to describe how his work fits into the overall picture Following two orientation chapters one a review of lignin structure and morphological distribution in plant cell walls and the second a review of the microbial catabolism of relevant aromatics the book is comprised of chapters in the three subject areas given by the book s title It does as intended provide comprehensive coverage of research to date August 1978
