Mpumalanga September 2014 Paper Life Science:

No Last Place to Rest Dineo Skosana, 2025-02-01 This book examines the impact of coal mining on the lives of former labour tenant and rural communities in post apartheid South Africa. No Last Place to Rest: Coal Mining and Dispossession in South Africa is an exploration of the ongoing struggles faced by families in the Mpumalanga and KwaZulu Natal provinces of South Africa whose lives have been upended by the relentless expansion of coal mining operations. These regions, burdened with the task of fulfilling the nation's energy needs and boosting the country's economy, witness daily the harsh realities of dispossession that extend far beyond the mere loss of property. Dineo Skosana presents a compelling argument that dispossession remains a present-day reality, a crisis contradicting the notion that it is merely a relic of the past in the post-apartheid landscape. It challenges the narrow perspective that equates land loss in material and economic terms only. Skosana considers the impact of grave relocations a common occurrence in these mining-dominated locales and the profound spiritual anguish and dehumanisation communities endure as their lands are excavated. In African societies, connections to the land extend beyond the material; land has a sacred and ancestral value. Grave relocations disrupt this connection, families have with their ancestors. In dispossessing not only the living but also the dead from their lands, the author argues that the act wounds the collective soul of a people, eroding their cultural heritage and collective identity and belonging. This book offers a rich ethnographic account of the experiences, struggles, and resistance of the affected communities, as well as a critical analysis of the legal and policy frameworks that enable their exploitation. In relation to the land question in South Africa, No Last Place to Rest presents deep insights for communities, activists, and government sectors acting in support of social justice and redress.

Public Secrets and Private Sufferings in the South African AIDS Epidemic Jonathan Stadler, 2021-04-26 This book tells the story of the HIV epidemic in South Africa and asks why, after more than three decades, it has not normalised. Despite considerable efforts to prevent infection and ambitious targets set to end the epidemic by 2030, HIV infections are increasing among young women, and treatment uptake and adherence have been uneven. Focusing on the years preceding and following treatment access, this book addresses why an end to AIDS may be misplaced optimism. By examining public discourses and private narratives about infection, illness, and death, this work reveals the contradictions between the lived experiences of AIDS suffering on the one hand and biomedical certainties on the other. Based on long-term ethnographic research in rural villages of the South African lowveld and within HIV prevention interventions in South Africa, more generally, this book offers an intimate perspective on the social and cultural responses to the epidemic. 5th
