Physical Activity and Sport During the First Ten Years of Life Richard Bailey, Jennifer P. Agans, Jean Côté, Andy Daly-Smith, Phillip D. Tomporowski, 2021-04-12 Evidence suggests that the first 10 or so years of life create the foundation for subsequent participation in recreational and health related physical activity This book brings together researchers and practitioners with expertise in issues related to physical activity physical education and sport during the primary elementary phase of schooling to explore these important issues Combining inter disciplinary perspectives the book addresses the inherent complexity of researching with young children It looks at the evidence on development during the first 10 years and how that evidence relates to physical activity and to sport in pre school school and out of school Finally the book offers a series of national case studies from Asia Europe and Africa demonstrating the importance of age appropriate sport and physical activity This is important reading for any student researcher educator or policy maker with an interest in physical activity and health education in the early years or at primary elementary level paediatric exercise science or youth sport

Social Studies Education in East Asian Contexts Kerry J. Kennedy, 2020-07-28 The book explores the state of social studies education within selected East Asian societies and provides some insights into distinctive classroom practices In an increasingly volatile and unpredictable world the education of young people who both understand the contexts in which they are growing up and see the need for engaging with them is a top priority This task falls to social studies education which carries the responsibility for inducting young people into their social world and helping them to see the role they can play within it This is particularly important in East Asia where strong economic growth long held cultural values and diverse political systems create an environment that challenges young people on multiple fronts This book with its team of regional authors shows how different societies in the region are dealing with these challenges and what can be expected from future citizens The book will appeal to policy makers researchers and teachers interested in the current state of social studies education in East Asian societies
