Local Literacies Mary Hamilton:

Local Literacies David Barton, Mary Hamilton, 2012 David Barton and Mary Hamilton offer a unique study of everyday reading and writing By concentrating on a selection of people in a particular community they analyse how literacy is used in people's everyday lives The Norwegian Mission's Literacy Work in Colonial and Independent Madagascar Ellen Veä Rosnes, 2018-12-07 Offering an original historical perspective on literacy work in Africa this book examines the role of the Norwegian Lutheran mission in Madagascar and sheds light on the motivations that drove colonizing powers literacy work Focusing on both colonial and independent Madagascar Rosnes examines how literacy practices were facilitated through mission schools and the impact on the reading and writing skills to Malagasy children and youth Analysing how literacy work influenced identity formation and power relations in the Malagasy society the author offers new insights into the field of language and education in Africa

Literacy and the Politics of Representation Mary Hamilton, 2012 Literacy is a key indicator for comparing individuals and nations in contemporary society It is central to public debates about the nature of the public sphere economic markets citizenship and self governance Literacy and the Politics of Representation aims to uncover the constructed nature of public understandings of literacy by examining detailed examples of how literacy is represented in a range of public contexts It looks at the ways in which knowledge about literacy is created and distributed the location and relative power of the knowledge makers and examines the different semiotic resources used in such representations images and metaphors numerical and statistical models and textual narratives and how they are related to one another The book focuses on the UK from 1970 to the present but includes a range of international comparisons and examples In addition exemplar chapters offer a model of analysis that can be used to deconstruct the representations of social policy issues This book is vital reading for postgraduate students in the areas of education studies literacy discourse analysis and multimodality

Literacy in Practice Patrick Thomas, Pamela Takayoshi, 2015-11-19 The rise of New Literacy Studies and the shift from studying reading and writing as a technical process to examining situated literacies what people do with literacy in particular social situations has focused attention toward understanding the connections between reading and writing practices and the broader social goals and cultural practices these literacy practices help to shape This collection brings together situated research studies of literacy across a range of specific contexts covering everyday educational and workplace domains Its contribution is to provide through an empirical framework a larger cumulative understanding of literacy across diverse contexts

Transnational Writing Program Administration David S. Martins, 2015-03-15 While local conditions remain at the forefront of writing program administration transnational activities are slowly and thoroughly shifting the questions we ask about writing curricula the space and place in which writing happens and the cultural and linguistic issues at the heart of the relationships forged in literacy work Transnational Writing Program Administration challenges taken for granted assumptions regarding program identity curriculum and pedagogical effectiveness logistics and quality assurance faculty and student demographics innovative partnerships and research and the infrastructure needed to support writing instruction in higher education Well known scholars and new voices in the field extend the theoretical underpinnings of writing program administration to consider programs activities and institutions involving students and faculty from two or more countries working together and highlight the situated practices of such efforts The collection brings translingual graduate students at the forefront of writing studies together with established administrators teachers and researchers and intends to enrich the efforts of WPAs by examining the practices and theories that impact our ability to conceive of writing program administration as transnational This collection will enable writing program administrators to take the emerging locations of writing instruction seriously to address the role of language difference in writing and to engage critically with the key notions and approaches to writing program administration that reveal its transnationality

Learning and Literacy over Time Julian Sefton-Green, Jennifer Rowsell, 2014-09-25 Learning and Literacy over Time addresses two gaps in literacy research studies offering longitudinal perspectives on learners and the trajectory of their learning lives inside and outside of school and studies revealing how past experiences with literacy and learning inform future experiences and practices It does so by bringing together researchers who revisited subjects of their initial research conducted over the past 10 20 years with people whom they encountered through ethnographic or classroom based investigations and are the subjects of previous published accounts The case studies drawn from countries in three continents and covering a range of social worlds offer an original and at times quite an emotive interpretation of the effects of long term social change in the UK the US Australia and Canada the claims and aspirations made by and for certain kinds of educational interventions how research subjects reflect on and learn from the processes of being co opted into classroom research as well as how they make sense of school experiences some of the widespread changes in literacy practices as a result of our move into the digital era and above all how academic research can learn from these life stories raising a number of challenges about methodology and our claims to know the people we research In many cases the process of revisiting led to important reconceptualizations of the earlier work and a sense of seeing with new eyes what was missed in the past The reflections on methodology and research processes will interest postgraduate and academic researchers The studies of change and of long term effects are widely relevant to teacher educators and scholars in language and literacy education educational anthropology life history research media and cultural studies and sociology

The Routledge Companion to English Studies Constant Leung, Brian V Street, 2014-03-14 English is now a global phenomenon no longer defined by fixed territorial cultural and social functions The Routledge Companion to English Studies provides an authoritative overview of the subject area Taking into account the changing conceptualisations of English this Companion considers both historical trajectories and contemporary perspectives whilst also showcasing the state of the art contributions made by the established scholars of the field The Routledge Companion to English Studies provides a set of broad perspectives on English as a subject of study and research highlights the importance

Approaches to the History of Written Culture Martyn Lyons,Rita Marquilhas,2017-08-07 This book investigates the history of writing as a cultural practice in a variety of contexts and periods It analyses the rituals and practices determining intimate or ordinary writing as well as bureaucratic and religious writing From the inscribed images of pre literate societies to the democratization of writing in the modern era access to writing technology and its public and private uses are examined In ten studies presented by leading historians of scribal culture from seven countries the book investigates the uses of writing in non alphabetical as well as alphabetical script in societies ranging from Native America and ancient Korea to modern Europe The authors emphasise the material characteristics of writing and in so doing they pose questions about the definition of writing itself Drawing on expertise in various disciplines they give an up to date account of the current state of knowledge in a field at the forefront of Book History

White Field, black seeds Anna Kuusmin,M. J. Driscoll,2013-01-01 White field black seeds who can sow Although the riddle from which this these words are taken comes from oral tradition it refers to the ability to write a skill which in most Nordic countries was not regarded as necessary for everyone And yet a significant number of ordinary people with no access to formal schooling took up the pen and produced a variety of highly interesting texts diaries letters memoirs collections of folklore and handwritten newspapers This collection presents the work of primarily Nordic scholars from fields such as linguistics history literature and folklore studies who share an interest in the production dissemination and reception of written texts by non privileged people during the long nineteenth century

The Cambridge Handbook of Literacy David R. Olson,Nancy Torrance,2009-02-09 This handbook marks the transformation of the topic of literacy from the narrower concerns with learning to read and write to an interdisciplinary enquiry into the various roles of writing and reading in the full range of social and psychological functions in both modern and developing societies It does so by exploring the nature and development of writing systems the relations between speech and writing the history of the social uses of writing the evolution of conventions of reading the social and developmental dimensions of acquiring literate competencies and more generally the conceptual and cognitive dimensions of literacy as a set of social practices Contributors to the volume are leading scholars drawn from such disciplines as linguistics literature history anthropology psychology the neurosciences cultural psychology and education

The Semiotics of Writing Patrick Coppock,2001 12 col illus

Urban Literacy Unesco Institute for Education,2005 Over 800 million adults worldwide two thirds of them women are unable to reap the benefits of literate expression In this book the author aims to dispel the notion that illiteracy is principally confined to rural areas which has for many years been the main focus of development programmes Through a series of case studies and analysis this book provides a valuable insight into what literacy can mean in an urban setting and explores the many ways it is used to enhance the lives of individuals It highlights the need for greater understanding of the diversity of literacy learning and explores the practical issues in providing assistance to those who aspire to improve their literacy skills Spiritual Literacy in John Wesley's Methodism Vicki Tolar Burton, 2008 By examining the intersections of literacy rhetoric and spirituality as they occurred in early British Methodism and by exploring the meaning of these practices for class and gender the author provides a new understanding of the method of Methodism Robert Stephen Reid Communication Department Chair University of Dubuque Discovering Literacy Judy Kalman, 2005 Discovering Literacy Access Routes to Written Culture for a Group of Women in Mexico Valuing Literacy Nayda Veeman, Angela Ward, Keith Walker, 2006 Valuing Literacy is a broad brush approach that bridges the gap between academic literature public policy about literacy and lifelong learning topics of international concern in the globalized economy The book is based on a recently completed case study of adult learning policy in Canada and Sweden it draws on one author's over twenty five years of practical experience in adult education and literacy and the respective expertise of two academics in the fields of education policy and literacy pub desc Literacy in America Barbara J. Guzzetti, 2002 Offers comprehensive information about literacy and related instructional and assessment topics Bulletin of the John Rylands University Library of Manchester John Rylands University Library of Manchester, 2005 Relations, Locations, Positions Peter Vandenberg, Sue Hum, Jennifer Clary-Lemon, 2006 This anthology for beginning teachers and graduate students in composition studies and other related fields begins with the premise that writing is always social a dialogue between self and other This social turn not only underscores the value of the writing process by encouraging students to prewrite draft and revise together but more important it also focuses on postprocess by foregrounding approaches to teaching writing that highlight the importance of context Thus this anthology seeks to move beyond process by building on the valuable lessons from process pedagogy and by promoting the idea that writing stands for a radically complex network of phenomena From publisher's description Public Literacy Elizabeth Ervin, 2003 Translating Childhoods Marjorie Faulstich Orellana, 2009 Translating Childhoods a unique contribution to the study of immigrant youth explores the work children perform as language and culture brokers Children shoulder basic and more complicated verbal exchanges for non English speaking adults Readers hear through children's own words what it means be the keys to communication that adults otherwise would lack From ethnographic data and research Marjorie Faulstich Orellana's study expands the definition of child labor by assessing children's roles as translators and considers how sociocultural learning and development is shaped as a result
