Waging War and Making Peace Matthew D'Auria, Rolf Petri, Jan Vermeiren, 2024-12-02 The history of Europe is marked not only by violence and division but also by efforts to reduce the destructiveness of war In this volume the authors explore the meaning of Europe within war and peace discourses from the eighteenth to the twentieth centuries They examine imagined wars the post 1815 security order the portrayal of Russian and Muslim Others double standards in international law pacifist rhetoric and the role of Europe in war propaganda and resistance movements The authors demonstrate how both war and peace practices have shaped the concept of Europe over time A Kingdom United Catriona Pennell, 2012-03 In this the first fully documented study of British and Irish popular reactions to the outbreak of the First World War Catriona Pennell explores UK public opinion of the time and successfully challenges the myth of British war enthusiasm A Kingdom United explores what people felt and how they acted in response to an unanticipated and unprecedented crisis It is a history of both ordinary people and elite figures in extraordinary times Dr Pennell demonstrates that describing the reactions of over 40 million British and Irish people to the outbreak of war as either enthusiastic in the British case or disengaged in the Irish is over simplified and inadequate Emotional reactions to the war were ambiguous and complex and changed over time By the end of 1914 the populations of England Scotland Wales and Ireland had largely embraced the war but the war had also embraced them and showed no signs of relinquishing its grip The five months from August to December 1914 set the shape of much that was to follow A Kingdom United describes and explains that twenty week formative process Pennell draws from a vast array of diaries letters journals and newspaper accounts by the very people who experienced the war in its first dramatic five months She outlines the variety of responses felt amongst both the ordinary people and elite figures from across the country Contemporary Review, 2010 Political Science, 2014 Journal of Peace Research, 2010-03
